ENEMY IS REPULSED BY PERSHING'S TROOPS.

Raiders Driven Back Before They Reached the Trenches of the U.S. Troops; Box Barrage Fails.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 7.—Two German raids on different sectors of the American line northwest of Toul were repulsed this morning with enemy losses. The Germans were driven off before reaching the American trenches, by accurate machine-gun and automatic fire. At one point the Germans laid down a box barrage. As it was this lifted, the Americans came up from their shelters and poured a heavy fire into the advancing raiders, who retired after a short period of close fighting with the American outposts. At another point the Germans threw hundreds of gas shells while advancing, but the Americans quickly donned their masks and waited for the raiders. These they quickly dispersed by rifle fire.

The Germans kept up a bombardment of the American positions all afternoon.

GERMANS REPORT PARISIAN PANICS.

THE REAL SITUATION FINDS THE FRENCH CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 5.—Extracts from German newspapers giving circumstantial narratives of a panic in Paris and riots after the receipt of official statements from the front, reached here today at the moment when the confidence of the French was never so high and were greeted with characteristic French raillery.

At no time since the victory of the Marne have the French people looked forward to the issue of the conflict with greater faith and sincerity. Three reasons are given for the prevailing high spirit. First, Premier Clemenceau, with his contagious courage and confidence; second, the fact that the Germans are going to death by the thousands without nearing the issue of battle; third, the arrival of the moment so long looked forward to in France when American troops will be fighting side by side with the Poilus.

ONE TRUST FOR WAR.

Bernard M. Baruch Head of It.

Federal Control of the Production and Distribution of Commodities.

Requirements Division to be Central Directing Agency of the Board.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Formal announcement was made today by the War Industries Board of its functions and policy under the broad powers delegated by President Wilson, under which the board and its chairman, Bernard M. Baruch, virtually will control the production and distribution of every commodity essential to the prosecution of the war.

The recently-appointed requirements division will be the central directing agency through which the policies of the chairman are to be carried out. Through this division the various purchasing agencies of the government and the Allied purchasing commission will obtain their needs of raw materials and finished products. These agencies will submit statements of their respective needs as far in advance as possible.

FILLING ORDERS.

The task of filling orders will be delegated to special commodities divisions of the board, or to the supply departments or other agencies that may be decided upon.

Through information gathered by the requirements division, Chairman Baruch will determine a general industrial policy. According to today's announcement, the requirements of the American government and the Allies can be met if orders and deliveries are systematically allocated. According to the relative urgency of the needs of the various war activities. Shortage of materials is declared to be frequently not actual but a result of poorly planned distribution. The purpose of the board will be to "guide and assist" the departments through proper allocation of materials.

NEEDS.

Anticipation of the prospective needs of the supply departments of the government and the Allies as far in advance as possible will be an important function of the requirements division. Specific requirements will be referred to the proper commodity section, on which there will be representatives of each of the supply departments of the Purchasing Commission.

Any appeal from decisions affecting distribution will be made to Chairman Baruch, whose decision will be final.

GLASS IN RATIONS; FIFTY REPORTED ILL.

MAJ. GAINES OF THE NINETIETH DIVISION SUBMITS THE PROOFS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) April 7.—Proof of the presence of ground glass in nine different articles of food shipped to the Ninetieth Division commissary at Camp Travis was announced tonight by Maj. Noel Gaines, in charge of the military police of the Ninetieth Division. Fifty members of officers' families and enlisted men are, he said, ill.

ONLY ONE CASE FOUND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Investigation by the government of thousands of stories of ground glass in food has disclosed but one case in which glass actually was found by inspectors.

That one instance, the Committee on Public Information announced tonight, was the work of a disgruntled employee of a Fort Smith, Ark., bakery who drove his employer out of business by putting glass in a loaf of bread sent to an orphanage. Some of the orphans had their lips cut, but no more serious injuries resulted. The baker, accused of being a German agent, had to close his shop.

SANTA CLARA RAISES THIRD OF ITS QUOTA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, April 7.—In spite of the fact that the active campaign does not start until tomorrow, Santa Clara county has already subscribed approximately one-third of its entire allotment, or $1,000,000 out of a quota of $2,608,000 for the Third Liberty Loan.

The first community Liberty Bond flag with two stars was awarded to Saratoga this afternoon before a crowd of 5000 persons gathered for the annual blossom festival. With an allotment of $14,000, Saratoga has already subscribed $50,000.

Fourteen hundred men of the war work council and about the same number of women of the mobilized army will open a whirlwind canvass of the county tomorrow morning.

BALTIMORE (Md.) April 8.—The entire city was shaken about 1 o'clock this morning by a terrific explosion at the Bethlehem Steel company's plant at Sparrow's Point. In the southern section hundreds of persons, aroused by the noise and terrified by the force of the shock, rushed from their homes.

Officials of the company have refused to divulge the extent of damage or cause of the blow-up.

GOODWIN'S ALL-WOMAN WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE.

NAT IN DANGER OF LOSING NO. 5 AS FORMER MISS MORELAND FILES SUIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 7.—Mrs. Nat C. Goodwin, the fifth, who was Miss Margaret Moreland before she became the wife of the star of "Why Marry?" now at the Astor Theater, has begun an action for absolute divorce, it was learned today. The summons, complaint and affidavit of service were filed in the Rockland County Clerk's office in New York City, March 14, last, by Max D. Steur of No. 42 Broadway, lawyer for the latest Mrs. Goodwin.

Nathaniel C. Goodwin, Jr., as his name appears in the Rockland County Clerk's office, will be 62 next July 25. His matrimonial record thus far is as follows:

No. 1, Elisa Weatherseby; No. 2, Nellie Baker Pease; No. 3, Maxine Elliott; No. 4, Edna Goodrich; No. 5, Margaret (also known on the stage as Marjorie) Parrett Moreland.

Of his wives he has written:

"My first wife was an angel, my second, a silly woman; my third, a Roman senator; my fourth, a pretty little thing; my fifth, all woman."

PRAGER NOT AN ALIEN, DECLARES ROOMMATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 7.—John Pohl, with whom Robert Prager roomed in St. Louis a year ago, says Prager was not pro-German, but was a violent pro-American—so much so as to be disagreeable at times.

Pohl today gave the story of his arrest as the result of a quarrel with Prager. Before the entrance of the United States into the war Prager and Pohl had an argument because Prager insisted on hanging out an American flag. Pohl was arrested, but never was brought to trial.

HAD AMERICAN FLAG.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLLINSVILLE (Ill.) April 7.—In the shack in which Prager lived here were found three American flags, which had been hung by Prager. Vogella Valiso, of Italian birth, who lived in the shack for nearly a year, said that Prager never spoke of the war and never made disloyal remarks.

RUSS TAKE EXCEPTIONS TO GERMAN VILLAINY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Saturday, April 6.—While the Council of National Commissaries does not intend to protest against the German landing of troops in Finland, it has notified the German government that it takes exception to the violation by Germany of Article VI of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, which guarantees the security of the Russian fleet and naval stores in Finnish waters where the Germans have taken a large amount of booty.

KAISER'S PLANS UPSET BY ALLIES IN PICARDY.

Military Machine Working Smoothly Under the Direction of Gen. Foch; American Aviators Co-operate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—French and British tenacity has upset the ambitious plans of the German high command for the battle of Picardy, says the War Department's weekly military review tonight, and now the enemy, determined to get in some sort of success at any cost, is throwing fresh forces into the battle in an effort to secure limited objectives. Because of this, the situation is expected to remain uncertain for some time to come.

General improvement in the strategic position of the Allies is noted, and the review declares that under Gen. Foch the Allied military machine is working smoothly and efficiently in stemming the German assault.

There is no mention whatever of the American troops reported hurrying to the front to join the British and French, though the department again mentions that several American transport sections have taken an active part in the battle and that the American aviation service is co-operating with the British.

"At the opening of the third week of the German offensive we find that the enemy is still far short of attaining his principal objectives," says the review.

"It is now evident that the German high command contemplated overwhelming the British at the outset, between the Oise and the Sensee, and driving a wedge into the Franco-British forces.

"The enemy fully expected to achieve a decision in the field in the course of one great battle.

"Evidence of prisoners tends to confirm that the enemy hoped to gain the line of the Somme by the evening of the first day of the offensive. As a matter of fact, it took the Germans ten days to cover the ground they expected to overrun within forty-eight hours. The stubbornness of British resistance and the severe casualties inflicted by them compelled the Germans to draw more heavily than they had anticipated, on their own reserves.

"The German high command is now throwing fresh forces into battle in an effort to secure some of its more limited objectives.

"Under the leadership of Gen. Foch, the Allied military machine is functioning with precise smoothness, insuring greatest economy, harmony and efficiency in the use of all of the forces now united in stemming the German assaults. The morale of the Allied troops remains high.

The German offensive has not spent itself and the situation will continue uncertain for some time to come. However, the general strategic and tactical position of the Allies is becoming more favorable."

"After a period of relative calm early in the week, during which the enemy was busy bringing up his heavy guns and repairing the wastage of battle by replacing tired units by fresh troops, another powerful attack was launched along the segment of the line now held by the French, stretching from the Amiens-Roye road to Grivesnes. The enemy was able to make slight headway. . . . Fierce fighting continues.

"Allied forces are massed to check the invaders in this area. . . .

"There has been relatively less activity north of the Somme, though the Germans have made a number of serious attempts to encircle Arras. All attacks in this sector have been beaten off by the British and the important Arras defenses hold firm. . . .

"Allied aircraft has been particularly active throughout the week, not only in maintaining superiority in the air and keeping the skies clear of hostile craft, but more especially in bombing enemy dumps, convoys, trains and rail reads. . . .

"A number of American transport sections have taken an active part in the battle and the American aviation service is co-operating with the British.

"Our own forces engaged have been relatively busy. Under the cover of a heavy barrage, the enemy raided one of our outposts in the Woevre area and the increase of artillery activity is noted in this sector.

"Our own forces engaged have up a new position in the line and are occupying well-prepared intrenchments along the Meuse hills, south of Verdun.

"In the Italian theater there has been an increase in hostile activity.

"Reports continue to be received indicating that the enemy contemplates launching an offense thrust. The Austrian armies, with the exception of a few units operating in the Ukraine or in the western area, are now in the Italian theater.

"The Secretary of War has concluded a visit to the Italian front."

Hesitating.

FOE ANXIOUS TO LEARN ABOUT BRITISH TROOPS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 7.—The enemy yesterday continued to make raids along the northern section of the battle front for the purpose of learning what British troops were opposing them. German prisoners captured April 3 declared that their latest orders were to be ready to push on further, but so well was the secrecy of the plans preserved they knew nothing more of the impending operations. There would be another drive shortly, however, seemed to be the general opinion. The German casualties in the fighting in the Albert sector Friday were very heavy. At numerous places it was possible to see with the naked eye the forming for the attack and in any case the British artillery and machine guns played havoc among the assembling troops.

Near Hebuterne German concentrations were caught in machine-gun barrages on three occasions and badly smashed.

The British artillery continues to pound the Germans all along the battle front.

ANGLO-FRENCH ARMIES WIN IN COUNTER BLOW.

Invaders Forced Back at Several Points in Picardy and All His Assaults Have Met with Defeat.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 7.—Successful British counter-attacks were launched yesterday against the Germans in Aveluy Wood, on the west side of the Ancre River, north of Albert. The War Office statement issued today says the British recaptured all their former positions. A German attack on the British lines opposite Albert was repulsed and another Teuton assault south of Hebuterne was broken up by the fire of the British artillery.

The text of the statement follows:

"Counter-attacks carried out by us yesterday successfully re-established our former positions in Aveluy Wood, and resulted in the capture of over 120 prisoners and several machine guns.

"Later in the day the enemy again attacked our positions opposite Albert, but was repulsed and another attack attempted earlier in the night south of Hebuterne was completely broken up by our artillery fire.

"By a successful minor operation carried out by us early this morning south of the River Somme, we improved our position and captured forty prisoners."

PARIS, April 7.—The Germans last night renewed their attacks on the French position in the region of Chauny and Barisis, on the Oise front, in which sector the French earlier in the day had withdrawn to prepared positions, the War Office announced this afternoon.

West of Noyon a German detachment which had gained a foothold in the advanced French line was ejected by a counter-attack.

LONDON, April 7.—There was no resumption Sunday of the heavy fighting along the British front. The Germans, according to the report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters tonight, started two attacks at Bucquoy, but were repelled.

BERLIN (via London) April 7.—"On the southern bank of the Oise the continuation of our attack brought fresh successes," says the official communication from headquarters this evening. "Pierremande and Folembray have been taken."

PARIS, April 7.—Attempts by the Germans to make gains against the French troops in the region of Hangard-En-Santerre Sunday were blocked, according to the official communication issued tonight. The French artillery took under its fire German troops at various points north of Montdidier.

A strong attack by the Germans in the region of Hill No. 344 in the Verdun sector was put down.

Snagged.

GERMAN ARMY IN A TRAP BUILT BY HINDENBURG.

To Get Out of It the Troops Have to Try Another Tack for Elbow Room.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 7.—The German attack yesterday on the left bank of the River Oise between Chauny and Barisis is taken by some military critics as indicating the enemy, finding himself cramped in the salient, his offensive has created toward Montdidier and Amiens, is seeking more elbow room, as without it he will be unable to deploy his masses in Hindenburg style.

The retirement of the French to positions prepared in advance causes no uneasiness here.

"People should not allow themselves to be hypnotized by the official bulletins," said one high official.

"In a battle like this," he added, "bulletins showing more or less important advances and retreats are simply geographical summaries which convey little meaning except to those who are directing the operations.

"People ask: 'Will the Boches get Amiens?'

"My reply is: 'Perhaps they will, if Gen. Foch can smash more German divisions by letting them in than by keeping them out. Unbeaten armies are more important than are towns, and what has happened in this battle does not show on the map.

"Germany's gains look like a fat, juicy pear to the newspaper reader, but the Kaiser knows how hollow it is at the core.

"Gen. Ludendorff is being fenced with and hustled, not by our main forces, but by little more than our covering troops, and if it is no time for bragging and overconfidence, neither is it the time for nervousness over little fluctuations in the battle fronts."

All those who approach the French General Staff share the confidence of this official.

Gen. Foch, it now is generally understood, will not be drawn by the Germans, but will hold his reserves for the moment chosen by him.

"Wait a bit. Wait a bit."

Thus the Allies' supreme commander replies with a characteristic sweep of his arm when asked about the future. Gen. Foch's calm determination is compared with the bearing of Marshal Joffre before and during the battle of the Marne and with this contributes no little to confidence in his battle plans.

BERLIN REPORTS GERMAN SHELLS DROP IN AMIENS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) April 6.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press.) The official statement issued by the War Office says:

"Western theater: Local enterprises near Bucquoy and south of Hebuterne resulted in bringing in some prisoners and numerous machine guns.

"An English thrust against Puisieux failed.

"On the western bank of the Ancre we extended our bridgehead positions by means of an attack.

"On both sides of Albert and south of Somme there were lively engagements and minor successful infantry fights.

"Railway establishments in Amiens were shelled.

"French attacks on wide sectors between Moreuil and Montdidier, made to wrest from us gains that we secured on Thursday, broke down with heaviest losses to the French.

"Montdidier was subjected to French fire.

"There was lively artillery firing before Verdun, which increased during the day.

"In the other theaters of the war there is nothing new."

COMMISSION REVISES ORDER.

Fixes Eight-hour Basic Day for Women and Minors.

Affects Employees of California Fruit Canneries.

Raise Piece Rates Twenty-five to Fifty Per Cent.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The Industrial Welfare Commission has today issued a revised order governing the employment of women and minors in the fruit and vegetable canning industry in California.

On account of its perishable condition, the fruit and vegetable canning industry is exempt from the eight-hour law. However, the commission establishes eight hours as the normal day, and requires that an increased rate of 25 per cent. be paid for any work performed by women after eight hours. If the work extends beyond twelve hours, double rates must be paid. Minors may not be employed more than eight hours in any one day.

In the revision of rates of pay, the commission has raised the minimum wage for hour work from 16 cents to 20 cents per hour. Women may be employed during a learning period of three weeks at not less than 16 cents per hour. The minimum wage for minors is 16 cents per hour.

As the canning industry has been operated mainly upon a piece-rate system, the commission has previously established piecerates. By the new order these piece-work rates are increased from 20 per cent. to 50 per cent., as follows:

	1917 RATE.		1918 RATE.
	100 lbs.	40 lbs.	100 lbs.	40 lbs.
Chop	12½	.05	17½	.07
Peas	17½	.07	25	.10
Peas	37½	.15	.50	.20
Apricots	.25	.10	.35	.14
Plums	Not fixed		17½	.07
Asparagus	.12	.05½	17½	.07
Tomatoes	.07*	.04½	.10*	.07

*—Per 12 quarts.

On the canning of all varieties of fruit and vegetables and upon the preparation of all products not specified above, the commission requires guaranteed earnings be paid. Individual establishments may fix their own piece rates, if they wish to continue upon the piece-rate system, but in any case no woman may be paid less than 16 cents per hour for the first week's work upon any product, or less than 20 cents per hour after the first week.

The canning industry of California employed over 25,000 women and minors last year. Many new canneries are being equipped and the industry is straining to conserve all the food possible this year. The value of the fruit and vegetable pack in 1918 is estimated to show an increase of $10,000,000 over the pack of 1916.

The increase in the rates fixed the commission is expected to yield fully $300,000 additional wages to the women and minors employed. The increase in rates is expected to draw women into the industry who have never previously worked in canneries and to assure sufficient help to take care of the immense pack.

The order of the commission becomes effective June 2.

The members of the commission are: Judge Frank J. Murasky, San Francisco; Katherine Philips Edson, Los Angeles; A. B. C. Dohrmann, San Francisco; Alexander Goldstein, San Francisco; Walter G. Mathewson, San Jose.

YOLO EXCEEDS QUOTA MANY THOUSANDS.

MOSCOW, Saturday, April 6.—Admiral Kato (Japanese Minister of Marine) has issued a proclamation at Vladivostok dealing with the landing there Friday of Entente Allied forces. The Japanese Minister says he feels great sympathy with Russia in the present situation, wishes a cessation of fratricide and the fullest realization of the revolution, but was compelled to take steps to protect life and property of Japanese and Allied subjects in view of the murder of a Japanese soldier because there were no local organizations at the Siberian port able to maintain law and order. The admiral adds that he has asked his government for further instructions.

President Soukhanoff of the Vladivostok Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Deputies, reporting to the Council of National Commissaries, states that in his opinion the killing of the Japanese was a political murder.

NO WARNING.

M. Soukhanoff says the landing of Japanese troops was effected without the consent of the American, British and other consuls and no warning was given to the local authorities. Later British forces also were landed.

President Soukhanoff reports that the Japanese section of the city is being patrolled by Japnese detachments.

The Council of National Commissaries today issued a statement, saying:

"Japan has started a campaign against the Soviet republic." It then points out that the landing of troops at Vladivostok was effected immediately after the murder of the Japanese without waiting for an investigation to be made, and says the crime was part of a prearranged plan.

Continuing, the statement says:

"What is the programme of action of the other governments of the Entente—America, England, France and Italy? Up to the present moment their policy regarding the rapacious scheme of Japan eventually has been one of hesitation.

"The American government apparently was against the Japanese invasion, but now the situation cannot remain indefinite any longer. England has followed Japan's example. This must be put to the British government with all emphasis. A similar course must be pursued toward the diplomatic representatives of the United States and other Entente Powers.

"Orders have been given to all Siberian councils of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates to resist an armed invasion of Russia."

U-BOAT CAPTAIN TAKES OFFICER TO GET BONUS

SINKING OF AMERICAN OIL SHIP REVEALS PRIZE SYSTEM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 7.—When the American oil steamship, Atlantic Sun, of 2323 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the war zone a few weeks ago, the first officer was taken prisoner by the crew of the U-boat, according to members of the oil vessel's crew, who arrived here today.

Capt. Walter K. Miller, who confirmed the story of the sailors, told of his own remarkable escape from death. A torpedo struck the Atlantic Sun in the port side and penetrated an oil tank which, exploding, blew a large hole in the side of the vessel. The captain's cabin was wrecked and the skipper fell into the hold and the rush of oil to the surface carried him through the aperture which the torpedo had made and he found himself floating in the debris.

While the submarine was shelling the damaged vessel, the latter's crew rescued Capt. Miller. The U-boat approached their lifeboat and the second officer informed the Germans that the captain had perished. The submarine commander thereupon ordered the first officer, whose name, Capt. Miller would not disclose today, into the U-boat; the German explaining that he was obliged to produce an officer in order to obtain a bonus, which he said the German government had offered for sinkings.

The Atlantic Sun sailed from Philadelphia. She was built at Newcastle, Del., in 1893.

SECOND PHASE OVER; GERMANS GAIN NOTHING.

Allies Have More than Held Their Own While the Kaiser Wastes His Strength.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

THE second phase of the great battle along the Somme which the Germans began on Thursday last, has died down, the A. P. Review says. It lasted less than three days and the fighting has resolved itself into more or less isolated engagements in which the French and British allies have more than held their own.

The attention of the Germans for the present is mainly directed at the lower end of the battle zone, which apparently they are attempting to enlarge for the purpose of getting elbow room in which to move their masses of troops.

Meanwhile, Gen. Foch, the commander-in-chief of the Allies, is biding his time, meeting the German assaults with powerful resistance and here and there conforming his lines to the necessities of the battle. It is confidently stated at Paris that Foch will not be drawn into any false move—where each move is of such vital importance—but will strike with his reserves at the moment chosen by him.

There may be some significance in the report that the German Emperor after a conference on the western front on Saturday with his chiefs, Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, intends to proceed to Rumania. At the outset of the great German offensive, when it was sweeping the Allied forces before it, notwithstanding their tenacious resistance, Emperor William, it was announced officially, from Berlin, was in supreme command. That announcement was regarded at the time as evidence that the Emperor expected a complete and decisive victory. Since, then, however, British and French and American reinforcements have come up.

LOCAL FIGHTING.

The British on Sunday engaged in sharp local fighting at various points and repulsed German counter attacks. They also drove off by artillery fire, two German attacks launched in the neighborhood of Bucquoy.

West of Noyon, a German detachment which had gained a foothold in the French lines was forced out by a counter-attack. Another attack at Grivesnes was repulsed but the German efforts along the Oise to enlarge their previous gains were continued in the sector between Chauny and Barisis. Here the French commander deemed it advisable to withdraw to positions previously prepared, and these are being held strongly.

The official communication from general headquarters deals with the events of Saturday when strong British infantry forces stormed the German positions around Beaumont-Hamel and Albert, and French divisions "brought up from other fronts" attacked the Germans on the western bank of the Avre. These engagements, according to the German report, resulted in failure for the Allies.

On the other hand, Field Marshal Haig's report says that a German attack on the British lines opposite Albert Saturday was repulsed and that British counter attacks in Aveluy Wood placed the British in positions formerly held by them.

FINLAND.

German troops still are being poured into Finland.

President Wilson's acceptance of the challenge of the Central Powers and his declaration of "force, force to the utmost, force without stint or limit, the righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust," has had a responsive echo from the capitals of the Entente Allied powers, where the press gives high praise to the President for "putting his actions into agreement with his words."

YOUTH DROWNS IN WATER-FILLED PIT.

CHUM'S ATTEMPTS TO SAVE LAD'S LIFE PROVE UNSUCCESSFUL.

While his companion was frantically trying to save him, Charles W. Westerdahl, 16 years old, of No. 1763 East Forty-first street, a Times carrier and student at the Jefferson High School, was drowned yesterday in the large gravel pit at the plant of the Consumers' Rock and Gravel Company on East Twenty-eighth street, near Alameda street. Julius Schultz, 16 years old, of No. 1253 East Twenty-fifth street, who was swimming with Westerdahl and who fought vainly to help his chum, escaped.

The rain hole is at the bottom of an excavation nearly 100 feet deep and several hundred feet in length. The last ten feet of it is covered with water, forming a surface of about 150 feet in width, with steep sand banks rising from the water's edge.

According to the story told the police, Raphael Chacon, watchman at the plant, warned the boys not to go into the water. Disregarding his warning, the youths started to swim across the 150-foot stretch. While half-way across Westerdahl apparently was seized with cramps and called for help.

Schultz swam toward him, but was unable to sustain the additional weight. He struggled in the water until his own strength gave out and then swam to the shore. Climbing the steep sand bank, he ran into the lot and called Marcelio Cano of No. 1682 Stanton avenue to help him.

When Cano reached the water the body of the boy was floating on top. He swam out, brought it ashore and then called University Station officers. For nearly an hour the police worked over the body with a pulmotor in the hope of restoring respiration, but without success. The body was removed to the Edwards, Gamash & Heath mortuary.

WIDOW TELLS ORIGIN OF BIG ESTATE SUIT.

CLAIM OF SEPULVEDA HEIRS FOUND IN SEARCH AT HALL OF RECORDS.

Mrs. Francis Sepulveda de Burrows, a widow residing at the Morgan Hotel, claims the honor of having brought to light the fact that 100 heirs of Francisco Sepulveda have a legal claim to the ownership of 25,000 acres, including the holdings of the Santa Monica Mountain Park Company and the Santa Monica Land and Water Company.

Suit against these companies, with a view to acquiring possession of a tract of land worth millions of dollars, was filed a few days ago by the grand and great-grandchildren of the Sepulvedas. The land was supposed to have been deeded to Col. Robert S. Baker in 1872, but the litigants claim that he obtained possession of only about half the land holdings of Don Sepulveda.

Mrs. Burrows, one of the great-grand-daughters, says she first learned of her claim to a share in the big estate about three years ago, when a Los Angeles law firm wrote asking her to sign over her right to a share of the property in order that the firm might fight the case through the court and recover for her a share.

"I thought," she said yesterday, "that if I was heir to anything I'd fight for my own right, so I went to the Hall of Records and began a search. Then I engaged legal assistance and took the case into court."

Mrs. Burrows says three of the direct heirs to the estate have signed their claims over to her and that she expects to see the case through to a victorious finish. She figures it out that Francisco Sepulveda, many years ago, claimed title to about 45,000 acres of land. Including the Verdugo rancho and the territory where Santa Monica, Venice and Sawtelle are situated. It is asserted that title to the land was not received until after Mr. Sepulveda's death, but that before his death Mr. Sepulveda deeded 20,000 acres, which he thought was his actual holding, to Col. Baker. When the deeds were received it was found that they included two ranchos totaling 45,000 acres, and it is that additional 25,000 that the 100 descendants of Don Sepulveda are now making a fight for.

ATTENTION, INVENTORS!

Naval Consulting Board Names Southern Pacific Man as Its Representative on Coast.

Allen H. Babcock, electrical engineer for the Southern Pacific, has been appointed western representative for the Naval Consulting Board. News of the appointment by Secretary Daniels reached here today. Mr. Babcock's office will be at No. 65 Market street, San Francisco.

The Naval Consulting Board has for its distinguished head, Thomas A. Edison, and includes many noted Americans. Since its organization it has been busy testing and passing on thousands of inventions and devices of an offensive and defensive nature, for the use of both the army and navy. Many of the inventions offered have been adopted, and have proven very useful.

At the present time suggestions on the following subjects are particularly desired: Gases, both inflammable and poisonous; aeronautical devices or improvements; internal combustion motors; mines or torpedoes; submarines; ordnance and explosives; radio communication; ship construction and propulsion; life saving; appliances; aids to navigation; food and sanitation.

As western representative of this organization, Mr. Babcock will give immediate personal attention to local inventions, and is prepared to transmit all such direct to Washington.

Futile.

GERMANS FAIL TO BUDGE BRITISH; LOSE HEAVILY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 7.—The British official report says:

"Successful minor operations undertaken by us this morning south of the Somme led to sharp local fighting. The enemy counter attacked strongly in an attempt to regain his former positions and suffered heavy losses. The number of German prisoners taken has increased to more than 140; several machine guns also were captured.

"This morning the enemy made two attempts to deliver attacks against our position at Bucquoy, but in each case his troops were stopped and dispersed by our artillery fire.

"On the remainder of the battle front the day passed more quietly."

Distorted.

TURKS CLAIM VICTORY; DENIED BY BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 7.—Advices from Amsterdam say that the Turkish official statement of Thursday reports that the English forces east of the Jordan were completely defeated after suffering heavy casualties. It also was claimed that the Turkish troops had reconquered Es-Salt and, advancing on the Es-Salt-Jericho road, compelled British reinforcements to retreat in disorder and that they are being persistently pursued by the Turkish troops, which came up from the east.

A War Office statement characterizes the foregoing statement as exaggerated and distorted. The operations to which it refers were in the nature of a raid in which considerable losses were inflicted on the enemy. Seven hundred prisoners were taken by the British troops, which withdrew after achieving their objectives. The British were attacked by some 500 Turks, who were beaten off.

Appreciation.

GRATITUDE OF FRANCE EXPRESSED BY TARDIEU.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—The gratitude of France for the part which American troops are taking in the battle of Picardy was expressed to the American people by Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner in the United States, in an address here yesterday before the French institute. The occasion was the institute's celebration of the anniversary of this nation's entry into the war.

Myron T. Herrick, former American Ambassador to France, presided.

"Keener than ever, during the past fortnight, during these bloody and heavy days, I have felt that whenever America chooses to give herself she gives the whole of herself," M. Tardieu said. "I am grateful for, and I have been moved by the acceptance of urgent requests which, on account of this battle was my duty to submit to your government.

"On this memorable day, in the name of France, who feels highly honored by the regard of her great European and American allies, I have come here to state again our unshaken resolve."

America, by her immense effort at home, is paying "a just tribute to the Allied arms in Picardy," Commissioner Tardieu said, and the participation of the American troops there was worthy of America. For the sake of three words, liberty, justice and democracy, he declared, the Allies had resolved to win.

HONOR FLAGS ARE UNFURLED.

Many Cities and Counties Exceed Liberty Loan Quotas.

Madera County First "Over Top" in California.

Moiser, Or., the Banner Town of Twelfth District.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Honor flags to cities and counties which have reached their quotas in the third Liberty Loan are flying from the Mexican to the Canadian borders, and from the Pacific Ocean to points far inland, Liberty Loan headquarters announced here today.

In the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, Madera county, Cal., won the first county flag and Mosier, Or., the first city flag. Twenty-two of the twenty-eight honor flags already awarded have gone to the State of Oregon. The following Oregon towns have passed their quotas and are still "going strong:" Sandy, Amity, Powers, Gold Beach, Arlington, Condon, Drain, Jacksonville, Coburg, Newport, Toledo, Falls City, Grass Valley, Bay City, Cloverdale, Enterprise, Banks, Cornelius, Forest Grove, Fossil and Lafayette.

Utah has reported several claims for honor flags, but these places will not be named until April 13, when the Utah committee was to make an official statement.

State reports for the district show a total of $750,000 subscribed in Utah. The 15,000 members of the Mormon church unanimously voted $250,000 of this sum. Idaho had raised one-third of her quota. Spokane and Walla Walla, Wash., had raised $1,000,000 each. The little town of Millers, Nev., had oversubscribed its quota by 223 per cent. Thompsons, Good Springs and Clark county, Nev., exceeded their quotas on the first day.

Monterey county, Cal., had subscribed $250,000. Western Merced county had reached approximately half of its quota. Stockton had received $171,750 in unsolicited subscriptions.

TO ANNUL MARRIAGE.

New Work Woman Says Husband Wedded Her Because He Believed Her Wealthy.

Mrs. Frances Adele Lottimer of New York, who is wintering at No. 1618 North Kenmore avenue, this city, has filed suit in the Superior Court at Santa Ana, it became known yesterday, through her attorney, Joseph Citron, for an annulment of her marriage to William Gardner Lottimer, now said to be a resident of New York.

In the petition Mrs. Lottimer bases her suit upon the allegation that Mr. Lottimer married her because he thought she was a woman of large means. She asserts that he is unable to carry out the requirements of the marriage contract and wants the marriage dissolved.

The marriage of the Lottimers took place in San Francisco on March 4, 1917. Mrs. Lottimer filed her annulment suit shortly after a year of wedded life had elapsed. She figured conspicuously in court a few days ago when George Harcourt, a former stage celebrity, was charged with having stolen her automobile. The case was dismissed by Justice Brown.

AUSTRIAN DODGES ISSUE OF A SEPARATE PEA

Details of the Meeting of an Allied [illegible] sentative with Mensdorff.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 7.—Gen. Smuts, South African delegate in London for the British Cabinet, was, according to Le Matin, the "figurehead in the council of the Entente Allies" referred to by Premier Clemenceau in his statement April 5, denying the assertion of Count Czernin that the French Prime Minister had sought to open peace negotiations with Austria-Hungary. The representative of the dual monarchy who met Gen. Smuts in Switzerland was Count Mensdorff - Pouilly - Dietrichstein, Austro-Hungarian Ambassador at London when the war broke out.

Immediately upon being introduced to Count Mensdorff, says the newspaper in relating the interview, Gen. Smuts, taking the initiative in the conversation, bluntly said:

KING SENDS MESSAGE; WILSON IS GRATEFUL.

SAYS WHOLE FORCE OF THE UNITED STATES WILL BE PUT INTO WAR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 7.—Replying to greetings on the occasion of the anniversary of the entry of the United States into the war, President Wilson has telegraphed the following message to King George:

"Permit me to express my warm gratification. Your generous message has been received and I assure you it is with the greatest satisfaction that the people of the United States find themselves side by side in this final war for free self-government with such steadfast and indomitable associates.

"Permit me also to assure your majesty that we shall continue to do everything possible to put the whole force of the United States into this great struggle."

Entrance of United States in War an Act of Immortal Glory.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 6.—Stephen Pichon, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, speaking at the celebration at the City Hall today of the anniversary of the entry of the United States into the war said:

"For the states that provoked the catastrophe in which millions met their death, the anniversary of the declaration of war is that of a crime of which they will eternally bear the responsibility and stigma.

"For the peoples who resolved to make supreme sacrifices only in order to defend and to save their most precious possessions for humanity, the anniversary of their entry into the war is that of an act which history will record with the title of immortal glory. Among those peoples, none more than that of the United States has a right to claim its part in the homage which will be rendered them by posterity."

GOVERNMENT TO GET WOOLEN MILL OUTPUT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, April 7.—Officials of the Golden State Woolen Mills have been requested to turn the entire output of th elocal plant over to the government. Although the mills have been working on huge orders for the government for months, private customers also have been taken care of. After April 15, however, the looms will be used entirely for the turning out of woolen garments for the men in the service.

At the present time the Golden State Woolen Mills is devoting 85 per cent. of the capacity of the plant to the manufacture of blankets and overcoats for the army and navy. Officials of the concern expressed the belief that the plant itself would not be commandeered.

"Every Dollar a Dollar for Manhood"—Pershing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Hard work by solicitors for the Third Liberty Loan Bonds will begin tomorrow. Following weeks of careful organization of committees in every State, city and county, and the gala opening of the campaign yesterday, campaign workers are ready to start an intensive canvass for subscriptions and by the end of the week they expect to have a big part of the $3,000,000,000 total.

Reports on yesterday's bond sales were so general in nature that officials at headquarters tonight did not attempt to calculate the actual amount subscribed. Indications were that they ran above $50,000,000, but this figure was based entirely on unofficial estimates. To make up the $3,000,000,000 credit within the four weeks, it will be necessary to gather in more than $100,000,000 a day.

By Tuesday or Wednesday, the Liberty Loan organization plans to have dependable figures on subscriptions.

Reports from all parts of the country today indicated that the popular enthusiasm for the loan was far greater than on the first day of either of the two previous campaigns.

From headquarters of the American expeditionary forces in France, a Liberty Loan message came today from Gen. Pershing.

"Every dollar subscribed to the Liberty Loan is a dollar invested in American manhood," cabled the general. "Every dollar subscribed in the result of self-denial means partnership in the hardships and risks of our men in the trenches. An overwhelming subscription to the Third Liberty Loan will be a patriotic expression of confidence in our ability as a nation to maintain all that we hold dear in civilization."

Nearly fifty communities reported today that they had exceeded their quotas in the first day's work, and thereby had won the right, along with 150 announced yesterday, to fly the Liberty Loan honor flag. Among those reporting were:

California: Kern county, Napa county.

FOES SHOULD BE SHOT, DECLARES GARDNER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 7.—Declaring that any person in the United States "who has enjoyed the privileges of our government and still has the slightest pro-Germanic feeling, should be stood up against a stone wall and shot at sunrise," Gov. Gardner of Missouri opened the Liberty Loan campaign in this State this afternoon with an address at a celebration here.

The ceremonies, which were postponed yesterday on account of rain, were witnessed by what is believed to have been the largest crowd ever assembled in St. Louis.

LONG-RANGE CANNON EXPLODES; TEN KILLED

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 7.—The bombardment of the Paris district by the long-range German gun continued today. There were no casualties.

The report that one of these guns exploded is confirmed from absolutely reliable sources. This occurred March 26, a lieutenant and nine men being killed.

Conscription in Britain Causes a Panic Among the Muscovites in England.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 7.—The American Consulate has been deluged for the last few days by applications from Russians resident in England for passports to America. This is the result of current reports as to the features of the new act for enlarging conscription, which, it is said, may enmesh the residents of foreign nationality.

There is considerable feeling, especially among workingmen, against the foreigners who are living in the country and enjoying its protection, but taking virtually no share in its military burden. Moreover, many of them are taking the places of small business men and workingmen who enlist.

AMBASSADOR TO BERLIN.

The Germans are thirty-five versts from Kharkov, the evacuation of which city is nearly completed.

TO SELL SHIPS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MOSCOW, April 7. — It is reported that the commissioners of the Baltic fleet have decided to sell all transports and auxiliary warships to Russian firms or citizens, on condition that the government retain control. This means that their disposal to aliens would not be permitted. This measure was deemed necessary, in view of the German landing in Finland, which creates a precarious situation. Authentic information has been received that the Germans have landed 12,000 men from thirty warships and transports. It apparently is considered that Russia is not concerned and that this action has not been protested thus far.

No Russian troops are participating in the fighting in Finland, according to an official statement, all these troops having been removed after the Brest-Litovsk treaty. Any Russians remaining are considered volunteers who may be attached to either camp.

Rheims Again Violently Bombarded by the Germans; Paris Official Report.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 7.—The French official statement tonight says a German attack on the French lines in the region of Grivesnes, northwest of Montdidier was repulsed. Rheims was violently bombarded by the Germans last night. The text of the statement reads:

"Last evening the French repulsed a German attack in the region of Grivesnes.

"In the course of the night, the artillery of both sides displayed great activity between Montdidier and Noyon.

"West of Noyon a German detachment which had succeeded in gaining a foothold in the advanced French trenches was immediately ejected by a counter-attack.

"On the Oise front the Germans renewed their assaults in the region of Chauny and Barisis.

"A German attempt to raid the French lines north of the Chemin des Dames was unsuccessful.

"Rheims was violently bombarded in the course of the night."

TWELFTH DISTRICT MAKES BIG BOND SHOWING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Unofficial figures based on meager returns from communities throughout the seven States of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, it was announced here last night, indicated that the district had subscribed on the first day of the third Liberty Loan at least $75,000,000 of its quota of $210,000,000.

Official returns, it was said, possibly would bring the day's total closer to $100,000,000.

Oregon reported thirteen counties out of thirty-five in the State had subscribed $1,569,000 and that forty-one communities oversubscribed, one as high as 250 per cent. and another 200 per cent.

Washington and California reported at least a score of communities which had oversubscribed their respective quotas and were claiming honor flags.

POLICE GUARD VENICE POLLS.

Immediate Arrest Threatened for Illegal Voters.

Drys Plan to Block Saloon Colonizhtion Ideas.

Liquor Question is the Main Issue at Beach.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, April 7.—A municipal campaign marked by an unusual lack of personalities, will be decided at the polls tomorrow, where both the wet and dry factions are expecting victory, and the various candidates for city office are hoping for it.

The eleventh hour placing of the dry question on the ballot has focused interest on it, almost to the exclusion of other questions. The voters will be asked to decide whether they will pay their Trustees $75 a month, instead of the $5 a week they now receive, and the question as to whether Los Angeles jitney busses will be permitted to operate in Venice is also to be decided at the polls tomorrow.

Chief Harry J. Raymond of the Venice police department has jumped into the limelight by declaring that he intends to pay no attention to the manifesto of Mayor Rutherford B. Harris and Trustee Edward S. Hill that they will not honor demands for pay of extra policemen on election day unless they be bona fide residents of this city.

POLITICAL MOVE.

"This is only a political move," declared the Chief today, "calculated to get Mr. Hill a few much needed votes, tomorrow. I shall go ahead with my plans to employ sixteen Los Angeles officers tomorrow, regardless of any city officials. I am going to have efficient, uniformed men, who will keep absolute order and will favor no person or faction at the polls."

The Chief says that it is impossible to find men with a thorough knowledge of police work, who are able to take a one-day job, and that the class of men who answered his advertisment in a Venice paper for extra police were absolutely incapable.

That the police will be busy tomorrow is augured in the threat of Dr. Robert C. Barton of the Morals and Efficiency Society of Los Angeles, that not only would those on the list of more than 100 names of persons alleged to be colonized in Venice to defeat the dry cause, be challenged at the polls, but they would be arrested as soon as they left the polling places. A number of deputy sheriffs and representatives of the District Attorney's office are expected to be on hand to make the arrests.

UNCERTAINTY.

Uncertainty is the keynote of tomorrow's election. The situation is paradoxical in that the drys have indorsed no candidate, in order that those favorable to their cause might not lose a vote from the more liberal-minded, while only one candidate, no matter what his leanings, has made public announcement for or against the dry question, fearing to alienate many of those who might otherwise vote for him. Constable Frank J. Barton is the only candidate to come out for a dry town. He is also the sole candidate to object to the $75 a month salary for the Trustees.

Twelve candidates are out for the four vacancies on the Board of Trustees. John G. Harrah is automatically elected, he being the only candidate to file papers for the short term. Three of the candidates, Mayor Rutherford B. Harris, and Trustees Edward S. Hill and William G. Lutz, are incumbents. The first two, as well as Thomas H. Hanna, candidate for the City Clerk, running against the incumbent, Thomas Wilde, are indorsed by the Venice Protective League, who also indorses John Stein for Trustee. The Venice Progressive Association candidates for Trustee are William G. Lutz, Albert E. Coles and Mayor Harris. Former Mayor Clyde W. Holbrook is an independent candidate. Other candidates are Albert W. Scott, Joseph L. Walter, George Walters, and Frank R. Watson, Sr. J. T. Peasgood, Jr., incumbent, will be automatically returned to the City Treasurer's desk as he is the only candidate.

FORECASTS DRY VICTORY.

Sanguine of success, the Rev. Russell E. Stark, dry leader, bases his hopes of victory on the close figures of the recent school election and a canvass made by dry workers, which he declares shows that many of those who would otherwise vote for the wets will vote dry as a matter of patriotic duty. There is only one physician in Venice who will vote wet, declared Mr. Stark, and he will do so from political reasons.

On the other hand, the wet forces are confident of success, asserting their cause is espoused by the solid business men of the community. They contend that to prohibit the sale of liquor in an amusement center like Venice would kill the city, cause an alarming increase in the tax rate and destroy the popularity of the city.

DRYS PLAN TO WATCH FOR ILLEGAL VOTERS.

SPECIAL DEPUTIES TO PROTECT BALLOTS AT WATTS ELECTION TODAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WATTS, April 7.—Special care to insure a clean election at Watts tomorrow has been taken by the dry organization. Charges of colonization have been frequent during the past several months and it is assured that arrests will follow illegal voting if special deputies and policemen can catch their men.

The anti-saloon question is the only topic of conversation on the eve of election. Dry supporters assert the city will close the liquor establishments tomorrow and the wets assert the town will go out of business if they do.

Court fight on the part of the wets failed to prevent the election. The court of appeals ruling that the Superior Court could not review the petition formally submitted to the City Trustees by the City Clerk cleared all obstacles and the election will be held as planned.

Charges made by the drys that voters have been registered from vacant lots, clubs and saloons are being considered and every effort will be made to prevent a single illegal voter from helping keep Watts wet.

M'KITTRICK EXPECTS CLOSE DRY CONTEST.

LIQUOR QUESTION IS PRINCIPAL ISSUE, ALTHOUGH TRUSTEES ARE ON BALLOTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

M'KITTRICK, April 7.—Whether McKittrick, the oldest city on the west side of Kern county and for many years the "farthest frontier settlement between Bakersfield and the sea," will continue to be a "wet" town or join the increasing number of "dry" municipalities, is to be decided by popular vote tomorrow.

The election will be held at the City Hall, and while it is expected that less than 150 ballots will be cast, the impression prevails that the contest will be close. There are four saloons within the corporate limits, and at the election in November, two years ago, eighty-six votes were polled in opposition to prohibition, while fifty-nine were recorded in favor of the proposition. On the question of no saloons, a majority of twenty-eight for the "wets" was the outcome, the vote for that sentiment being eighty-four, and for the "dry" element, fifty-six.

Three members of the Board of City Trustees are to be elected. The candidates are Eugene Fairbanks, Harry B. Phelan and Roy Goldberg. Messrs. Fairbanks and Phelan have filled the office of Trustee for some time, and Mr. Goldberg aspires to the Trusteeship recently vacated by Martin Notz, who has removed from the city. Other offices to be filled are those of City Clerk and City Treasurer, the duties of which have been discharged by Robert C. McLaughlin and Charles H. Meeves, respectively. The new Board of Trustees will appoint a City Recorder and City Marshal. Judge F. J. Burns, who has served as City Recorder for two years, will have no opponent, and City Marshal Edward O. Grandy, for more than a year the custodian of the peace and protection of the municipality, is without a competitor. There is no opposition for City Treasurer.

PENNIES ARE STOLEN FROM NEWSBOY'S BOX.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, April 7.—The champion "meanest man" has been operating in this city. He has been systematically stealing pennies from George Herrod, a fourteen-year-old newsboy, who partially supports his widowed mother and a large brood of small brothers by his earnings.

Sums running from 18 to 42 cents at one time have been abstracted from under the lad's pile of papers in front of the bank of Santa Monica. These sums are sometimes the fruit of an entire morning of hard work.

The Santa Monica police are investigating the thefts, and several prominent men in the community have promised to see that the offender is prosecuted to the ful extent of the law, if caught.

GLENDALE EXPANDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, April 7.—Two more districts have voted themselves into the city of Glendale; the Arden-avenue district, comprising that portion now outside the city lying between the Verdugo Wash west of Brand boulevard to beyond Central avenue, and the Valley View district, which takes in the territory west of the city and south of Broadway. In the Arden-avenue district the vote was twenty-three against three, and in the Valley View district, annexation carried with twenty-six to eleven.

ORANGE SHOW ELECTS HEAD FOR NEXT YEAR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, April 6.—William M. Parker, member of the Executive Committee for eight years and vice-president last year, was elected to the presidency of the ninth National Orange Show at the annual meeting of the directors, after they had heard the report of the recent show, which disclosed that even in the face of war conditions it was a financial success.

Ralph E. Swing was named vice-president and J. H. Wilson treasurer.

The orange show has come to be recognized as one of California's greatest midwinter events and already preparations for the next exposition will start. The new Executive Committee will be named by President Parker within a few weeks.

COUNTY PHYSICIAN ASKED FOR TULARE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, April 7.—Members of the Tulare County Medical Association at the close of a special meeting held here filed with the Board of Supervisors a petition asking for a reorganization of the county board of health, with the employment of a county physician to take entire charge of matters relating to the public health.

Under the present system the county health officer devotes only a portion of his time to the work, with city deputies who serve as volunteers.

Need for the new county board, it was urged, is especial in view of the adoption of plans for the construction of a costly hospital plant to be located at Springville.

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC.

INSPIRING as are the reports of certain communities oversubscribing their Liberty Loan allotments on the opening day of the drive, these results should not be confused with the situation obtaining in Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, Chicago and other populous cities.

Small communities, susceptible to quick, intensive organization and solicitation, can oversubscribe their allotments in a few hours. For a large city to have such an early oversubscription would be to have a few patriotic institutions and individuals subscribe an amount equal to the total obligations of over 500,000 people. Many of these 500,000, reverting to a course of pre-war reasoning, would say: "Los Angeles oversubscribed? That excuses us."

Your Southern California organization confidently looks for a large oversubscription. But neither they nor the Federal reserve bank will be satisfied with any oversubscription, however large, which does not represent the heroically sacrificial participation of the largest possible number of individuals.

We must have breadth of distribution. The totals in dollars and cents will take care of themselves. Along this line your organization will proceed. If it takes four weeks to accomplish the desired result, it means four weeks. An active, responsive citizenry alone can make it shorter.

CHATFIELD-TAYLOR FUNERAL ARRANGED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, April 7.—Arrangements were practically completed today for the funeral of Mrs. Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor. The rites will take place Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from All Saints by the Sea, the Montecito Episcopal Church. The Rev. George F. Weld, D.D., the rector, will officiate.

The pall bearers and honorary pall bearers will not be definitely chosen until Monday. The body has been taken to "Far-Afield," the Montecito home of the Chatfield-Taylor family, and there a guard of honor, composed of Montecito's residents, will watch over the body until the funeral.

Robert McGann, brother-in-law of the deceased, motored to Los Angeles today, to meet Mrs. Henry H. Whitman of Boston and Capt. Wayne Chatfield-Taylor of Camp Grant, Ill., daughter and son, who are expected to reach Los Angeles some time tonight and will be hurried here by machine.

MOTORCYCLIST SLAIN IN CLASH WITH AUTO.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 7.—Ben Pairere, aged 21, was instantly killed near Buena Park when his motorcycle collided head on with an automobile driven by Ray Mabee of West Anaheim. Mabee was passing a buggy, which hid the motorcycle. Pairere was looking back over his shoulder and did not see the automobile. Pairere had been working on a ranch near Los Alamitos.

County Items

local board, 385 white and 3 colored men, registered in this district, were placed in Class 1; in Class 2, 58; Class 4, (deferred by law,) 732, white and 1 colored; Class 6 (not available for service,) 3 men. The total registration was 1944 men.

AUTOISTS WARNED.

James Long Proposes to Use Gun In Next Debate Over Right of Way.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TULARE, April 7.—Automobile touring California are warned to stay away from James Long of Los Angeles, who is on a camping trip traveling by horse and wagon.

Long stopped here to get ammunition, declaring that during the previous three days no less than three "road hogs driving automobiles" had driven into him.

"The next one," he added, "will get a dose of bird shot." Long has the shot with which to make good on the promise.

NAMED FISH AGENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, April 7.—C. Bouder and H. B. Nidever of this city, representatives of the Board of Fish and Game Commission for the southern section of the State, have been named by Wesley Crandall, Fish Administrator for Southern California, as his deputies.

A Reason for Moving.

First Week of Coast League Season Ends With Oaks on Top; Angel-Tigers Tomorrow.

EARLY BROWN SLAUGHTERED.

Vernon Connect with Him for Seventeen Hits.

Henderson Game Frolic for Salt Lake Nine.

Buddy Walk Away with the Morning Contest.

BY EDWIN F. O'MALLEY.

In the baseball comique played yesterday morning and afternoon at Vernon and Washington Park, respectively, the houses of Powers and McDuffie broke even Steven. Powers treated home in the morning, 11 to 6, and Mac in the afternoon, 7 to 0. In the latter contest Curly Dorty performed with exquisite finesse.

Curly was a holdout far after All-Fools' Day and it looked very much, for a spell, as if it would be the navy for his. In his perversity he also laid out a plethora of base hits to be delivered on the mellowing of October and that very occasion happened yesterday afternoon. He was prosperous with them as a soap-box orator is of wind.

To point of the compass was without its share of the bingles. So dab Kennard did Brown prove to be in the line of endeavor that the Bees' nine refused to work overtime and gave forth a concerted yell for a pinch as their lacerated backs. The beginning made only seventeen swats out of forty and had the Angels, by the dispensation of fate, been able to tie the score, the southpaw baby would have been ready to do a philanthropic with seventeen more. Ask me, does shalt receive appeared to be Dolly's motto for the nonce.

The home program was only a big bill of frolic for the visitors. The locals didn't threaten at any stage of proceedings for that arch mason, Signor McCabe, conjured the ball into all sorts of evasive twirls, causing his subjects to cut quirks and many varieties into the entrenchment air.

Buddy Ryan gave an appetizing hint to the game in its first stages by a vocal assault-at-arms on Arbiter Finney. Let it herein be chronicled, however, that the wild Irish lad from the county of Mayo again finished second. Buddy has batted .750 in two days' play against the Bees. Just before the dandy left the box to take the shower he orated as follows:

"All men are created equal—a fly on your nose! look at Mary Pickford; is this glut of a Frary is a killjoy to the conversation line—why he won't let you talk to him. I talked to Roosevelt once without being introduced and just look at the difference between Teddy and—but to hell with him."

MORNING GAME.

The morning game discovered one of the noblest maxims that was ever coined for humanity—"Blood is thicker than water." Karl Crandall, brother of Ote Crandall, was the only knocker (I believe Harry Wilson would have said "iconoclast," but then we have never delved in the classics so deep as has this inimitable writer) and he fractured it into smithereens.

Ote had the vanishing-lady dip to his spitter and it breezed over the plate in tantalizing elusiveness. He was simply unhittable. Matt Gallagher, the efficient, wide-awake scorer, was about to put the big O in the Salt Lake's hit column when Karl ambled to the bat in the ninth. Ote had bowled down two of the enemy; there remained but one more—his brother—to dispose of. Who, in his wildest flights of fancy, would imagine that Cain would kill Abel at this conjuncture?

All Karl had to do was to strike out or bound a little one to the infield. The score was 14 to 0 against his own club and there was no motive (except the integrity of baseball) for him to spoil his brother's grand performance. Ote wafted a smile that drew Karl back to the days that they played hookey together and went swimming. Karl, however, was not to be charmed into a lapse from duty. Even the closest ties of affinity were as naught when compared with his honor. For once blood was not thicker than water and he swat the horsehide good and plenty for the only single of the game. Now, who says that baseball is not absolutely on the up and up? The score:

BASEBALLS DUE FOR NEW JUMP.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 7.—Baseballs will be handled only by exclusive jewelers in future, if their price keeps up in the way expected. Indications point to a $3 price on the main center of national sporting interest in a few weeks. Heavy demands from players with the expeditionary force recently are almost clearing the shelves of all dealers and manufacturers. One order alone, placed recently, called for 84,000 balls for France and was issued by the Y.M.C.A. Numerous other bodies are also shipping them across.

Increased cost in yarns and leather is said to be responsible for the threatened jump. Major leaguers and corner lot stars will be equally affected if the change is made. For over fifteen years the horsehide pill of ordinary commerce never varied from the standard price of $1.25, until recently when an extra quarter was tacked on.

SOLONS WIN ON BLUNDER.

Borton's Wild Throw Does Trick in Eighth.

Mitchell Hurls Ball in Big League Style.

Vernon Tigers Outhit the Senatorial Bunch.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7. — Bill Essick's Vernon Tigers staged an eighth-inning blunder this afternoon, and as a consequence the Sacramento Coast Leaguers romped home with the last game of the series. The final score was chalked at 2 to 1. The series split 50-50, Vernon taking the first three games and the Senators winning the last three.

The Tigers outhit the Senators today, getting ten safeties, while Bill Rodgers's clique was gathering two bingles. Gardner, for the locals, however, kept them well scattered. A home run for Art Griggs, his second of the series, put the first run over for the Senators. The visitors evened up the score in the sixth frame for a brace of hits. Sacramento put over the winning stuff in the eighth, when First Baseman Borton threw wild at second in an effort to get Easterly, who scored on the play.

Mitchell for the visitors pitched the best ball exhibited here this season. A larger crowd than attended the opening game of the season witnessed the contest. The score:

OAKS SPLIT WITH COAST CHAMPIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Oakland and San Francisco split a double-header here today. In the morning game at Oakland, Speed Martin held the Seals to five scattered hits and his superior twirling won the game for the Oaks. Spider Baum pitched the Seals to victory in the afternoon.

San Francisco lost five out of the seven games played in the opening week of the season.

SOUTHERN RACING SORRY SPECTACLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 7.—Reports from followers of the horses who are returning this week after the close of the winter season in New Orleans and Hot Springs do not bring flattering reports of the sport of kings as it was conducted this season. The class for the horses was decidedly shy, there was more questionable looking racing than usual and the attendance was not up to expectations by any means.

Charges of pulling were common, it being charged that some of the jockeys had to work so hard the horses came in with their necks pulled into arches. Then came the sponge in the nostrils scandal at Hot Springs and a getaway with nobody particularly happy over the season, unless it was some of the bookies.

Interest in racing seemed on the wane. It may pick up when the better class of tracks get into operation and horses of more certain and consistent performance appear.

GEORGE ADAMS WILL GET THE ACID TEST.

George Adams, the hard-hitting little bantamweight, will be given the acid test when he tackles Al Grunan in the main event at the Vernon Athletic Club tomorrow night. After winning two bouts in a row by the knockout route, Adams has been forced to concede ten pounds in weight in order to get matches. Grunan has agreed to make 125 pounds for his coming bout, and it is expected that with his cleverness and weight advantage, he will give little Georgie an honest-to-goodness battle.

Eddie McAuliffe, another 116-pounder, will try to make a comeback against Kid Mende in the semi-windup. McAuliffe was considered a coming champion a few years ago when he was knocking out every man he faced.

Eddie Huse and "Seattle" Frankie Burns will clash in the feature preliminary at 145 pounds. Burns is a newcomer and is touted as a flashy boxer.

The rest of the programme follows: Ted Frenchie vs. Charlie Rosselli, 116 pounds; Battling Frankie vs. Fred McManus, 122 pounds; Charlie Blair vs. Battling Nick, 118.

M'GOORTY FIGHTS BRENNAN TONIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 7.—Eddie McGoorty, considered one of the greatest middleweights in the country until he went o Australia, makes his re-entry into the ring again tomorrow night after an absenceof nine months. He meets Frank (K.O.) Brennan in a ten-round battle at Racine, and though the Detroiter is not of championship material, McGoorty will be taxed to his best to score a victory.

Brennan proved to Chicago fans in his workout on Saturday that he is of no mean ability, and it will take McGoorty of old to get the popular verdict.

Eddie is in fine shape for the match. He believes he is more effective than ever, and says the operation performed just before he left Australia, has convinced him that he is better than before the operation.

GRIZZLIES FALL IN CLOSE BATTLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, April 7.—The Grizzlies were defeated today by the Balboa Park Training Station's baseball team by the score of 8 to 7. Harmon, the Grizzly pitcher, was taken out in the fourth inning and Centerfielder Cullen finished the game. He held the Sailors to six hits for the remainder of the game. Rose of the navy line-up made a home run in the first inning. The score:

Navy, 8; hits, 9; errors, 4.

Grizzlies, 7; hits, 12; errors, 2.

Batteries—Carver, Ryan and Sepulveda; Harmon, Cullen and Baldwin.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC WALLOPS PASADENA.

The Pacific Electric Trainmen defeated the Pasadena team on the diamond yesterday by a score of 7 to 5.

P. E. Trainmen, 7; hits, 9; errors, 4.

Fournier Leading Team at Willow Wielding.

Vernon Doesn't Shine so Well at the Bat.

De Vormer Heads the Tiger Hitting List.

The Angels surely hit the ball good and hard last week. Fournier, the crack first-sacker of the Killefers, ran riot with his club, grabbing eleven bingles in twenty-six times up. Crawford was also there with the willow, corralling nine out of twenty-four times at the plate. In fact, all the Angels batted well and if they can keep up this kind of stick work they will have little or no trouble in attaining a big lead before the season has well advanced.

The Vernons didn't shine so well in the hitting department as did their local rivals. Outside of the pitchers, De Vormer led the regular list with a percentage of .376. Mitchell and Chadbourne also walloped the pill fairly well but the rest of the team was somewhat shy. The season has just started, however, and there is plenty of time for the Tigers to get their batting eyes.

The following are the batting averages of the first week's play:

WALTER MILLER TO BE ON JOB TODAY.

NEW WRESTLING INSTRUCTOR HOLDER OF TITLE IN TWO CLASSES.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club's new wrestling instructor, Walter Miller, will be on the job today and will be given a happy reception by the athletes. The powerful grappler, whose home has been St. Paul, arrived yesterday from Portland and has come to Los Angeles to remain permanently. He is the world's welter and middleweight champion and succeeds Dan McLeod, who resigned some time ago and went East. His coming means more to wrestling in Southern California than would that of any other man, because he is a remarkable matchmaker and will make the game hum.

Mr. Miller has held the championship several years and it isn't likely he'll have to let go for a long time to come. He is only 32 years old, but in his dozen years on the mat he has battled with more than 1000 men—a truly amazing record. But more remarkable still is the fact that not one of these of Miller's weight or under has been able to throw him. At the same time the champion has pinned down many much heavier. Weighing only 150, he has often wrestled cracks of 200. About as often he has conquered them. He has splendid brawn and a decidedly active brain, and that's a combination to conjure with. It is mighty hard to beat.

The L.A.A.C. is the only club in the world whose members are taught both occidental and oriental forms of wrestling by regular instructors, the best of their kind. Prof. Ito, the judo and jiu-jitsu expert, will continue his work in that line. Some of the club athletes, including juniors, are becoming proficient in the Japanese arts of self-defense.

PLAYING MANAGER THING OF PAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 7.—The playing manager disappeared from the major leagues when the Boston Red Sox lost Jack Barry to the United States Navy at the expiration of last season.

Although the roster of managers for the coming campaign contains names of several former stars of the diamond, none of them will be actively engaged in the pastime unless the rumor that Christy Mathewson will try to pitch a game or two for the Reds can be believed.

The two new faces in the pilot-houses of the big-league teams this year belong to Ed Barrow, who has replaced Barry at Boston, and Jack Hendricks, who has at last been graduated into the major ranks to fill the vacancy caused by the jump of Miller Huggins to the American League. In addition to these two, Hugo Bezdek practically will be getting his first real test, as he did not handle the Pirates for the entire season last year.

CUB PITCHING STAFF SIZES UP THE BEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 7.—The Cub pitching staff looks like the best in the league, though it will not have its entire strength for the first month or more of the season. Alexander, Vaughn and Tyler are ready to go at their usual pace, but Phil Douglas, who has been absent from the training trip because of illness, is not likely to be of much service for at least a month and probably more.

GOLF TEACHER TO FIGHT HUNS.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—John Dickson, until recently golf instructor at Santa Cruz, Cal., and who taught the game to Walter Hill at the Town and Country Club in St. Paul, and to Minister Brand Whitlock at the Inverness Club in Toledo, will leave Chicago as a British recruit tomorrow, having turned his back on a big golfing salary for the moderate pay of the British army, just to fight the Huns.

Dickson has four brothers, a brother-in-law and a sister fighting the Germans now, the sister being an interpreter. He wants to get into it with the First Scottish Horse, the regiment in which he served through the Boer War, with honors.

The impulse to drop everything at once came to Dickson when a wealthy manufacturer of German nativity insisted on talking German to his wife on the links, and refused to do any Red Cross work. "Here's where we quit," said Dickson and back he went to the clubhouse.

TRACTOR STUDENTS DISPLAY KNOWLEDGE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FERNANDO, April 7.—The tractor school closed here yesterday with an all-day demonstration on Chatsworth drive, witnessed by hundreds of spectators in addition to the 110 registered students of the week's course, which included farmers from Yuma to Canada, among whom were a number of women.

Field demonstrators operated tractors on the school acreage during the afternoons of the week, giving each student practical lessons in operating different types. A series of lectures was given at the school by Mr. G. D. French, expert from the International Harvester Company.

Mr. D. C. Clower, head of the agricultural department of the San Fernando High School, took active part in the management of the tractor school.

Oh, Joy!

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

For Stanford Alumni.

Local Stanford alumni will celebrate next Saturday evening with a dinner and smoker at the University Club, in honor of the annual intercollegiate track meet and baseball game between Stanford and the University of California.

Queen's Daughters to Meet.

The monthly meeting of the Queen's Daughters will be held in The Times Assembly Hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. An interesting programme has been prepared, which will include an address by Mrs. Eloise Bibb Thompson.

As Assistant Pastor.

Rev. A. Ross Kitt is to come to Los Angeles to assist Dr. James A. Francis, of the First Baptist Church, for two months, and he will be the guest of honor at the meeting of the Brotherhood on Tuesday night of next week, which will also be ladies' night.

Concert for Red Cross.

The choir of the First Baptist Church will give an old folks concert this evening in Blanchard Hall, for the benefit of the Schumann Club Red Cross auxiliary, of which Mrs. William E. Mabee, director of the choir, is president. The entire proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

To Advertising Men.

Prof. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago, who represents the Committee on Public Information at Washington, D. C., is to be chief speaker at the luncheon of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles at the Clark, tomorrow noon. His subject will be "The Unification of Public Opinion."

For Home Defense.

Men living in the University police district are asked to be present at a special meeting of the Home Defense League this evening at the University Police Station, No. 825 West Jefferson street. The league, which now has an enrollment of 250 members, has been formed for the purpose of protecting the residential district in case the police of the city are called to any central point in time of emergency.

For Astronomers.

The Astronomical Society will meet, tomorrow evening at the Clark Observatory, on the grounds of the home of W. A. Clark, Jr., No. 2205 West Adams street. The giant-ringed planet Saturn is now very favorably situated for observation, and its great golden globe presents a wonderful picture as it hangs suspended high in the eastern sky. Mars Baumgardt, director of the observatory, will answer questions regarding the dimensions of the planet and its retinue of ten satellites. The splendid constellation Orion and the neighboring first magnitude stars are now shining in southern heavens and present a most attractive picture to the dullest observer.

WILBUR TELLS WHY WE SHOULD SAVE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, April 7.—"If we do not save the things that our soldiers and our Allies need to win this war on the western front," said Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, in an address at the Saratoga Blossom Festival today, "the battle ground will be in the United States."

Dr. Wilbur stirred a crowd estimated at 3000 people with an address in which he said a German victory will put civilization back 500 years and in which he said that "we must not temporize with German propaganda, but must carry this war to the only place it can be decisively won—the heart of Germany."

"You are not a pro-German nor pro-American," said Dr. Wilbur. "You either are a German or an American. If you are a German you belong in but one place—an internment camp.

"If we don't feed France she may collapse like Russia. A soldier with an empty stomach will fight for only one thing and that is food."

Saratoga dedicated a service flag with thirty-seven blue and two gold stars and welcomed home Edwin Sidney Williams, founder of the blossom festival, as part of a celebration which brought 20,000 people to the town during the daylight hours.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN PRAISES THE FRENCH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 8.—Emperor Yoshito of Japan, in a message to President Poincare, praised the valor and spirit of solidarity which the French army has shown in the battle in Picardy. He concludes:

"I am glad to assure you once more than after this test, my confidence in the final triumph of the Allies is deeper than ever."

The President, replying, said:

"The unshakeable firmness with which the Allies are sustaining the enemy shock gives full confidence in the final success of our armies and in the complete realization of our common hopes."

WHO WANTS TO BE POSTMASTER?

Examination is Announced to Fill the Beverly Hills Vacancy.

Who wants to be postmaster of Beverly Hills? Now, don't all speak at once, for the position carries a salary of $1400 a year. However, applicants for the position, according to notices received yesterday from the United States Civil Service Commission, must be prepared to pass an examination to be held here May 8. Moreover, they must also be citizens of the United States, must actually reside within the delivery limits of the office, and have so resided at the time the present vacancy occurred.

Application blanks and full information concerning the examination may be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Baccalaureate.

WAR DECIDING WORLD'S FATE.

Throop College President Outlines Possibilities.

Changes for America are Certain, He Says.

Seventeen of Graduating Class in Service.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 8.—"We stand on a threshold — whether the threshold of the Dark Ages come back to us again, or the threshold of a brighter world than that of yesterday, the outcome of the war will determine," said James A. B. Scherer, president of Throop College of Technology, in his address at the combined commencement and baccalaureate exercises of that institution yesterday afternoon. His subject was "America Tomorrow."

"That it will be a far different world from that of yesterday no man can question," continued President Scherer. "If Germany wins, freedom perishes, the individual is enslaved to the state. Let us not be blind to the fact that this terrible Germany, which boasts of 'frightfulness' as its monstrous watchword, may win.

"Two weeks ago today these modern Huns swept back the allied defenders of democracy, liberty and Christianity. They were swept back until our hearts stood still with fear that the lines would shatter.

"They stand—bent but unbroken, bloody but unbowed," these new Crusaders of England and of France, calling for help from America. America must awake!

AMERICA SLOW.

"We have not done nearly what we should have done. Welcome the heart-searching and the repentence for our faithless lukewarmness.

"We have been living in a fool's paradise," he continued. "The war has been remote to us. Our interest in it has been academic. With the English and the French between us and the Germans, many of us have been content to await the play of internal forces in Germany and Austria. This great drive has been a rude awakening. We are rubbing our eyes and asking: 'If they break through, then what?' The answer is: 'We shall be left naked to our enemies.'

"Let us turn to the prospect of a world set free, a new world, the world of tomorrow, far different from the world that has been. Confining our provision to America, let us plan to see our own house in order for the home-coming of the boys—two years hence, or even ten years hence.

REGENERATIVE FORCE.

"Of one thing I feel very certain—they will bring with them an expansive and regenerative force of which America stands sorely in need. So, even out of this terrible war, if it ends right, there will come marching back to us the stalwart builders of a new republic, men enriched by intensive experience, ennobled by hardship and sacrifice, their sympathies deepend by a common suffering with other kindred peoples that are just as good as we are, to say the least. Already we clasp hands across the sea with our motherland. The virtual alliance in which we find ourselves with England is a logical conclusion far too long delayed.

"Of course we should not limit our alliance to England; it should include all of the genuine democracies of the world.

"Just as this war has already established us in new international relations, so when the boys come marching home, they will bring with them a new intelligence and a quickened spirit that will inspire us to fairer and more intelligent relations with people of other lands."

DECREES AWARDED.

Seventeen members of the class of 1918 were present in gown and togs to receive their decrees as bachelor of science. They were: Clark F. Andrews of Los Angeles; Samuel J. Broadwell of Covina; Stanley C. Carnahan of Los Angeles; Munson J. Dowd, Louis F. Essick, Kenneth J. Harrison of Eagle Rock; Gene B. Heywood, Gordon R. McDonald, Earl Mendenhall, of Los Angeles; Clarence E. Nelson of Farmington, Cal.; Donovan Nutt, Francis M. Pease of Alhambra; Noel S. Pike of Los Angeles; Samuel Rasmussen of Selma; Albert K. Smith, Jr., of Los Angeles, and Ralph T. Taylor.

By a coincidence the class has been split in half by the demands of the service, the absent members being Samuel Rasmussen, Carlyle H. Ridenour, Olin L. Armstrong, Clarence E. Bjerka. Bruce Burns, M. Reginald Coles, Harold R. Harris, J. Joseph Huber, W. Bayard Johnson, Paul Moore, Frank R. Mosher, Walter W. Ogier, Jr., Conrad Overstrom, Norman I. Prosser, Maynard S. Reynolds, Lloyd E. Towne, Dallas L. Walker.

Master of science decrees were presented to William R. Hainsworth of Washington, and to Archie R. Kemp of Pasadena. This year the junior travel scholarship prize of $750, and intended for European travel, goes to Relta Alter of Long Beach.

It was announced that during the last fiscal year, gifts to the college had totaled $119,560, and was the gift of eight different donors. The college will reopen April 15.

TWO THOUSAND HEAR ACTOR FARNUM SPEAK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STOCKTON (Cal.) April 7.—More than 2000 people gathered at the Southern Pacific depot here today to hear William Farnum, motion picture actor, give a Liberty Loan address from the rear platform of his special, as it passed through here on a Liberty Loan tour.

Tomorrow 5000 school children will parade here for the bond campaign and will sing in chorus in Hunter Square, in the heart of the city. Liberty Loan headquarters reported that the county had passed the $200,000 mark, before actual solicitation of subscriptions had started.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia) 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50

Loyalty.

PASTORS URGE PEOPLE TO DEEPER PATRIOTISM.

Fight Ours; Over-Subscribe Liberty Loan Quota, Says one Pastor.

IN VARIOUS Los Angeles pulpits yesterday the anniversary of America's entry into the great war was made the occasion for urging a greater and more effective loyalty to America, through attitude of mind and through direct action. The support of the third Liberty Loan was placed before the people by various pulpiteers as their immediate and urgent duty. Below are given excerpts from some of yesterday's patriotic sermons:

REV. EDGAR FAY DAUGHERTY.
FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Rev Edgar Fay Daugherty's sermon on "The Liberty Loan's Glory" was based on the text: "Well is it with the man that dealeth graciously and lendeth; he shall maintain his cause in judgment." Psalms 112:5. He said, in part:

"The duty of the hour is a full or over-subscription to the Third Liberty Loan, the calls for which began to be sounded yesterday. Here in America—in Los Angeles—we have not fully awakened to the task in hand; the major number of our people are concerned with their own affairs rather than with the affairs of the government. In too many instances they face the government's many-sided calls as duties for 'the other fellow.'

"It has got to be brought home to every American citizen that the fight is his—and the issue depends in large degree upon him. Everything—absolutely everything—must be subordinated in our lives, our thoughts and plans and activities, to the war. As long as it is not so, in any life, that life is recreant before the deepest need we ever nationally faced.

"I'm testifying that 'graciously'—the selective soldiers of the nation have thus far dealt with the flag in the loan of their lives; testifying, that 'it is well with them' to a man! For the government's theory is, that the soldiers of the nation we call our own must be the best fed, best clothed, the best equipped and paid and sustained—amid the multitudes which are clashing in their strength, for only so can his cause gain the vindication for which it joins battle—with the completest and most selfish 'efficiency' made in Germany—humanity ever saw."

TRINITY AUDITORIUM.

"After the War—What?" was the subject of Dr. Charles C. Selecman yesterday in Trinity Auditorium. He said in part:

"While upon the surface there may seem to be an inconsistency, in a Christian minister who represents Jesus Christ, lending his aid and sympathy to his country in a time of bloodshed and slaughter yet, it seems to me there is a profounder inconsistency on the part of any man who, in the presence of this great world's tragedy, fails to enter heart and soul into the struggle of humanity for true democracy and abiding liberty.

"Germany stands accused before the world today, of having planned a ruthless war of conquest, as a step toward world dominion. She has violated the neutrality of Belgium, which she was pledged to respect and enforce. She has outraged every law of man and God, in her methods of warfare on land and on sea. She has become an Ishmaelite among the nations and every man's hand is against her, while her hand is against every man. She has turned a deaf ear to the same advice of such a statesman as Bismarck and has become a victim of ego-mania.

"Americans must be committed to the policy of never saying quit until this spirit of greater Germany is forever broken, and it is advertised to the world that Americans, Englishmen and Canadians and Frenchmen will give no quarters to autocracy."

DR. C. ELLWOOD NASH.
FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

"After a Year of War—United, Resolute, Confident" was the subject of Dr. C. Ellwood Nash yesterday in the First Universalist Church. In the course of this sermon he said:

"A whole year of nominal war—and we are just getting into a fighting mood. Democracies move slowly; it takes time to gather momentum, to co-ordinate the particles, to accept the groove—but they are no less hard to stop when they are started.

"Misgiving, debate, inertia, obdurate optimism, whimsies of countless varieties, hesitation, dalliance, have had their inevitable day; now we begin to see pretty clearly through the hole in the millstone. What we have said in many a sage and gripping phrase is taking hold of our own temper; we are shedding our coats and baring our muscles for a death grapple.

"Entire unanimity is of course not expectable; but we have attained a working unity that nothing can withstand. The doubters and parleyers must get out of the way or be crushed by the avalanche. There is still, thank God, little of bitterness, almost nothing of hate in the American spirit; we are fraternists, humanitarians, Christians in our attitude even toward the arch-enemies of every sanctity and every prize the ages have won; we are determined not to catch their contagion; but we intend to strike and strike to crush. This is our present religion; we believe it to be of divinest quality and of peak load urgency."

REYNOLD E. BLIGHT.
CHURCH OF THE PEOPLE.

The anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the great world war was celebrated yesterday morning by the Church of the People by a patriotic service in which patriotic songs and readings predominated. A pledge of loyalty to the nation and the cause of democracy was repeated by the audience. In a prelude Reynold E. Blight gave six reasons why everyone should buy Liberty Bonds, and in an address on democracy triumphant, he said, in part:

"This war will bring to the world a rebirth of freedom that shall not be limited to any nation or race, but shall be as wide as humanity. Even the minions of autocracy, who in blind zeal and deluded enthusiasm are fighting and dying to perpetuate the despotic rule of the war lords, will share in the benefits of the new-born liberty. In making possible a world-wide democracy America is proving herself the friend not only of the oppressed and outraged nations, but also of the great and powerful peoples, to whom she will bring the blessings of free government."

KEARNY UNITS IN LONG HIKE

Eightieth Brigade Near Del Mar.

Maj.-Gen. Strong Pays High Compliment.

Japanese Admiral and French Officer to Visit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE SERVICE.]

CAMP KEARNY, April 8.—The seven-mile hike back from camp at the San Diego-Orange line between 6000 and 8000 of California's Eightieth Infantry Brigade, commanded by Brig.-Gen. Frank Hall, marched into Del Mar at 9 o'clock this morning. The men showed in better health and spirits when they started out. Of the 10,000 from Camp San Diego who left Mar not one of the thousand men dropped out. In fact, many who on the first day's march from Camp Kearny had to be assisted by medical officers, were in the ranks today, pluming themselves and happily singing, "Oh, Miss Ellen Jane."

The march today was more monotonous than the first day's trip, but the men, hardened by the first days they have spent in their new home air camp, took more kindly to the long road than ever. They might have gone out with tender, blistered feet, but they came back veterans of the long training camp. With all the paraphernalia of war, rifle bandoliers, tools, pack, canteen, shelter tent "pup" tent and here and there a Kodak, a tooth brush or a safety razor, the men arrived at Del Mar singing and in the pink of condition.

Maj.-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, commander of the Eighty-first division, has kept in close touch with the men of the California brigade while they were camped in the desert and experiencing the cold nights they will have to observe when they get to Sunshine Division follows the Del Mar bow.

CONDITION FINE.

"Their physical condition is wonderful," said Gen. Strong. "There has been little sickness and hardly any have been absent from the ranks because of illness. It was a splendid physical condition in which the men were here in camp. They have got just what they needed. The hike has done splendid and effective work in the field."

Plans are under way for the entertainment at Camp Kearny on the day of Vice-Admiral [illegible], commander of two Japanese warships which put into port at San Diego yesterday. The vice-admiral and his staff will be the guests of honor at a review of the troops stationed at the Naval Training Station at Balboa Park, as the guests of Rear-Admiral Fullam. A similar review will be held Tuesday at Camp Kearny in honor of Vice-Admiral Isobuzuki and his staff.

FRENCH VISITOR.

Brig.-Gen. Henri Claudel, who is in rank of the French army in this country, was a distinguished visitor at Camp Kearny yesterday. He was accompanied by Capt. Jean De Courtrivron. The purpose of the visit was to confer with the officers of the French aviation corps. Both of the visiting officers have seen strenuous service at the front, each being decorated many times by the French government.

Gen. Strong today is in receipt of a toothsome delicacy that will be relished by all the way across the continent to him. It is a cake baked especially for him by Mrs. A. C. Calhoun, wife of Sergt. Calhoun, driver of Gen. Strong's personal auto. Mrs. Calhoun is a great great great niece of John C. Calhoun, the Carolina statesman. He and Sergt. Calhoun are the general's orderly accompanied Gen. Strong to France last fall. The cake came from Greensboro, N. C., where Calhoun and a baby girl were born after Mrs. Strong left.

The resignation of Maj. Gen. Martin of the One Hundred and Sixteenth Supply Train has been accepted by the War Department. Maj. Martin was with the Fifth Colorado Infantry. Lieut. Col. B. Diepenbrock, One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, and Lieut. Col. E. Talbot, One Hundred and Seventeenth Supply Train, have been made captains

CAMP KEARNY, April 7.—In a seven-mile hike back from the camp at the San Dieguito Ranch, between 6000 and 8000 of California's Eightieth Infantry Brigade, commanded by Brig.-Gen. Herman Hall, marched into Del Mar at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The men showed in better health than when they started out. On the march from Camp San Dieguito to Del Mar not one of the thousands of men dropped out. In fact, those who on the first day's march from Camp Kearny had to be carried by medical officers, were back in the ranks today, plugging along and happily singing, "Oh, Eliza, Eliza Jane."

The march today was more strenuous than the first day's tramp for the men, hardened by the six days they have spent in their open air camp, took more kindly to the road than ever. They might have gone out with tender, blistered feet, but they came back veterans of the training camp. With all the trappings of war, rifle intrenching tools, pack, canteen, mess kit, "pup" tent and here and there a Kodak, a tooth brush or a towel, the men arrived at Del Mar fairly singing and in the pink of condition.

Maj.-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, commander of the Sunshine Division, has kept in close touch with the men of the California brigade while they were camped in the hills and experiencing the conditions they will have to observe when the Sunshine Division follows the Kaiser below.

CONDITION FINE.

"Their physical condition is wonderful," said Gen. Strong. "There has been little sickness and scarcely any have been absent from duty because of illness. It seems as if the physical condition is better than it was here in camp. The change is just what they needed. The hike has done splendid and creditable work in the field."

Plans are under way for the entertainment at Camp Kearny today of Vice-Admiral K. [illegible], commander of two Japanese cruisers which put into port at San Pedro yesterday. The vice-admiral with his staff will be the guests of Maj.-Gen. Strong Tuesday and Monday to witness a review of the men stationed at the Naval Training Station at Balboa Park, as the guests of Rear-Admiral Fullam. "A similar review will be held Tuesday at Camp Kearny in honor of Vice-Admiral Suzuki and his staff.

FRENCH VISITOR.

Brig.-Gen. Henri Claudel, ranking officer of the French military mission in this country, was a distinguished visitor at Camp Kearny yesterday. He was accompanied by Capt. Gabriel De Courtrivron. The purpose of the visit, was to confer with the officers of the French mission here. Both of the visiting officers have seen strenuous service at the front, each being decorated many times by the French government.

Gen. Strong today is in possession of a toothsome delicacy that came all the way across the continent to him. It is a cake baked and sent to him by Mrs. A. C. Calhoun, wife of Sergt. Calhoun, driver of Gen. Strong's personal auto. Sergt. Calhoun is a great great grandson of John C. Calhoun, the Carolina statesman. He and Sergt. Gibson, the general's orderly accompanied Gen. Strong to France last fall. The cake came from Greensboro, where Mrs. Calhoun and a baby girl reside, after Mrs. Strong lives.

The resignation of Maj. John Martin of the One Hundred and Sixteenth Supply Train has been accepted by the War Department. Maj. Martin was with the Fifth Colorado Infantry. Lieut. A. B. Dispenbrock, One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, and Lieut. Ralph E. Talbot, One Hundred and Sixteenth Supply Train, have been made captains of the Medical Corps. Lieut. Paul O. Cooper, V.C., who has been transferred from the mount station to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for the officers' training camp there.

It has been announced that the campaign for the sale of Liberty Bonds will be made in such a way that a booth will be opened for those who desire to secure any. The booths have been detailed and will be sent to different points in the city to aid in the campaign.

VICTORY PRAYER MOVE GIVEN ADDED IMPETUS.

Catholics and Protestants Alike Urge Noontide Appeal for Safety and Success of America's Sons.

MAYOR WOODMAN yesterday gave his enthusiastic approval to the plan for noonday prayers and the ringing of bells for the purpose of keeping continuously in the minds of the people the fact that we are engaged in the world's greatest conflict.

"Any step taken to remind all of us of the importance of winning the war and keeping it uppermost in our minds will be appropriate," the Mayor said.

"The noonday may be made almost sacred by the proper observance of the plans. We can all well afford to stop for a moment and give the momentous conflict reflection. I believe there is no city in the United States any more patriotic than Los Angeles and that is one reason that I feel sure the people will take kindly to the suggestion. We are in the war to win and are going to win."

ANOONTIDE call of the bells of Los Angeles to a moment of prayer for the safety and success of the American soldiers and sailors on land and sea—an idea inspired from the depths of patriotic devotion—is now assured.

With the enthusiastic backing of Mayor Woodman and the approval of Bishop Cantwell of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles and of Catholic and Protestant churchmen alike, indications point to a rapid spread of the sentiment for a moment of prayer at noontime and wherever practicable, the ringing of bells as a signal for the noontide patriotic devotions.

To all who devoutedly believe in the efficacy of prayer—and who does not?—the beautiful idea has an appeal that churchmen say is universal. Here, first in the United States, the victory prayer is to be said simultaneously, in words that each heart dictates, in tune to the chimed bells from many steeples.

For centuries the bells of the Roman Catholic churches have sounded at high noon, and people have raised their silent supplications to

BELLS OF SOUTHLAND FAMED THE WORLD OVER.

EVERY school bell and every church bell in this city a liberty-and-prayer bell. Such is the plan, and when the time shall come for the bells to ring at noontime as a suggestion to people everywhere to bow their heads in prayer for the success of our soldier-citizens across the sea, how the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall should tingle in vibration, echoing back the refrain, "Liberty and justice for all!"

BELL-MAKING HERE.

From the days of the founding of the old missions, when big bells were brought from Mexico and Spain to be installed in the mission churches, and when sometimes the people even donated their gold and silver to be melted up into a bell for their favorite church, down to the installation of the big bell at St. Vibiana's Cathedral and the hymn-singing chimes at the Bible Institute, the people of Los Angeles and Southern California have been buyers and makers of bells. Nowhere in Los Angeles is there a church without a bell, save perhaps some little side-street mission that lays no claim to the dignity of a church.

In connection with the subject of bells in the Southland, it is asserted that the eleven chimes at the Bible Institute, which were brought to this city from Meneely, N. Y., are the finest this side of the Rocky Mountains. At Mission Inn, Riverside, is to be found the largest collection of bells in the country. The old mission bells, too, come in for their share of attention, for there is one or more bells hung in almost every mission along El Camino Real, the bells of San Juan Capistrano being especially famous, having often been the subject of stories, songs and poems, one of the best-known little poems being that by S. H. M. Byers.

One of the most notable sets of chimes in Southern California is made up of the twelve memorial bells which hang in the chapel at Hollywood Cemetery and which were placed there by the loving action of the hundreds of friends and admirers of Mrs. Eliza A. Otis, whose death in 1904 not only deprived California of one of its kindest and most generous women, but of one of the sweetest poets that ever sang the glories of the Golden State. These chimes at Hollywood, also, may soon be rung every day at high noon, not only in remembrance of the gentle spirit that has passed beyond, but as an inspiration to the spirit of freedom which today is winging its way across the world.

Another famous collection of bells, second only perhaps to the collection owned by Frank Miller of Riverside, is that in possession of Mrs. Clara B. Burdette of Pasadena. Mrs. Burdette owns more than 600 bells of various shapes, makes and sizes, which she has gathered from all parts of the world because of their historical value and because of their artistic and unique designs.

UPLAND WANTS TO LICK HUN.

Makes it Three Straight by Oversubscribing Liberty Loan Minimum.

Upland, which broke all records a year ago in raising money for the Red Cross, was the first to report having reached its quota on the opening day. At a mass meeting held Saturday evening Upland oversubscribed its minimum quota in the Liberty Bond campaign to the extent of $10,000.

Upland had been asked to raise $71,000 as a city in the 2500 population class, and before the meeting adjourned the subscriptions had reached $81,000. The Upland Chamber of Commerce immediately telegraphed to San Francisco asking for its honor flag.

It is worthy of note that that city raised $95,000 for the first Liberty Loan and $141,000 for the second Liberty Loan. Upland's grand total to date for Liberty Bonds amounts to $320,000.

MUST SELL RANCH TO PAY INHERITANCE TAX.

Thousands of Acres of Famous Miller and Lux Land to Be Put on the Market.

MILLER & LUX, reputed to be California's second corporation in point of size, practically the owners of the San Joaquin River for most of its length and owners of a good share of the Kern River with total land holdings in California, variously estimated in value at between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000, must break the ironclad rule laid down by Henry Miller, founder of the company, and sell some of the best land it owns to provide money with which to pay the Federal and State inheritance tax.

Some 150,000 acres in Kern and King counties are to be thrown on the market. Just how much the inheritance tax will be is not known, for all the testimony of experts before the appraiser has not been submitted, but all are agreed it will not be less than $2,000,000 nor probably more than $6,000,000. One of Henry Miller's fundamental policies was never to sell his land. Occasionally he would sell property within the confines of incorporated communities, but never any of the ranch land.

This policy was maintained strictly up to the time of his death, but with the enormous inheritance taxes to meet the corporation must break the hard and fast rule for once at least.

"We will have to sell some of the best land we have to meet the inheritance tax," was the way David Brown, vice-president of the company, put it yesterday in San Francisco. "I don't know what prices are to be asked, but I do know that the land is either now irrigated or susceptible to irrigation and that it is all fine farming land."

For years Miller & Lux have been California's biggest farmers. They have operated on a scale so immense that no other California farmer or farming corporation could even hope to compare, but with all of their gigantic plans, company heads say they never have made a cent. Farming operations on a large scale are unprofitable, they assert, no matter how efficiently managed, and their only desire has been to meet tax payments regularly.

For profit they have looked to the advance in values of their holdings, and it is this that caused Henry Miller to lay down the rule that has remained unbroken to this day, but must now be laid aside.

The Miller & Lux ranch holdings have been linked with the history of California since the days of '49. Henry Miller was born in Brackenheim, Germany, July 21, 1827. He died in his ninetieth year at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. Leroy Nickel, No. 2101 Laguna street, Los Angeles, October 15, 1916.

When 20 years old he came to the United States, landing at New York with only a few cents in his pockets. He became a butcher there. In 1849 he headed for California, to participate in the gold rush, landing in San Francisco, where he became a butcher again.

In 1851 he went into the butcher business at San Francisco and set

Cut Wide Swath.

FAKE SOLDIER SOUGHT BY POLICE AS FORGER.

DISPLAY of a costly olive drab silk shirt brought to an end the society swath cut by Charles H. Pearmine, 19 years old, of Seattle, alleged forger and deserter, who made his escape from detectives at Pasadena yesterday morning by jumping from a second-story window of a hotel, after a three-day sensational exploit of the hearts and fancies for the uniform of a soldier by a half-dozen of the prominent misses of the winter colony.

At a ball on Saturday evening, Pearmine, of several aliases, was much in evidence among the younger set. He confided to Harry Shade, a private detective, who interviewed him, that he was on his way to West Point; that he was engaged to one of the most prominent younger buds, and that he had been a member of Co. D, One Hundred Sixtieth Infantry, stationed at Camp Kearny.

The silk shirt, worn with a debonair demeanor, beautiful blond hair, richly carmined lips and a black bow necktie, excited suspicion. He wore an opal ring set with two diamonds. Later it was learned that this ring had been paid for at the counters of Walton & Co., with an alleged forged check. It is on this score that he is now being sought by the police.

Knocking at the door of the suite occupied by Pearmine yesterday, the detectives were asked to wait a few minutes. They waited until they were tired and knocked again at the door, which was opened by a diminutive sailor who pointed to an open window.

The sailor told the officers that he knew little about Pearmine. He had been the guest of the latter at Long Beach and at Pasadena. Letters were found in the room giving the Seattle address. Here he was known among his erstwhile girl friends principally as "Clarence."

MANY MEETINGS GIVE LOAN DRIVE MOMENTUM.

HENRY S. M'KEE, chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee, stated last night that Saturday was marked by such stirring events that he hesitated to attempt an estimate of the Liberty Loan business during the day.

"It is my belief that we didn't roll up a great amount of subscriptions on Saturday," he said, "but we did succeed in arousing a tremendous amount of enthusiasm.

The third Liberty drive, which started Saturday, will gain tremendous momentum today from ten mass meetings which will be held in and around Los Angeles.

The meetings for today are as follows: Professional musicians at Timmons Cafe, 8 p.m.; California Furniture Company at No. 644 South Broadway, 5:30 p.m.; county officials at Room No. 401 Hall of Records, 10:05 a.m.; Sherman mass meeting, First Congregational Church of Sherman, 7:45 p.m.; Women's City Club, Hamburger's Auditorium, 1 p.m.; Beverly Hotel at 6 p.m.; Santa Ana solicitation meeting, No. 202 Spurgeon block, Santa Ana, 7:30 p.m.; South Dakota State Society of Los Angeles, Forum Hall in Mercantile Place, at 8:30 p.m.; Torrance meeting in Campbell Hall, Torrance, 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to participate in these meetings.

Some of the suburban cities launched their Liberty Bond campaigns yesterday by holding enormous mass meetings in public places. Thousands of people congregated at the Greek Theater in Ganesha Park, Pomona, to hear J. B. Coulson of Pasadena and Leslie Henry of Los Angeles discuss the Liberty Loan.

Former Senator Frank R. Flint spoke in the First Methodist Church at Glendora last night at 7 o'clock, while Jefferson Chandler addressed a mass meeting in the First Presbyterian Church in Arcadia at 7:30 in the evening. The congregation of the Methodist Church on Eagle Rock avenue had a Liberty Bond service last night and William B. Himrod conducted a similar meeting at the Brooklyn Heights Methodist Church. At Christ Church last night at 7:30 o'clock Prof. Paul U. Clark talked on "Liberty Bonds and the War."

The Croatian and Slavonian people of Los Angeles are attesting their sympathy with the American government by their purchase of Liberty Bonds, and today there will be subscriptions made on behalf of two of their societies.

The Croatian-Slavonian Benefit Society, branch No. 177, which is a branch of the National Croatian Society of America, will subscribe today for $2000 of the bonds. Ivan Zeo is the president and Ivan B. Konjevod is the chairman of committees.

The United Herzegovinian Catholic Benefit Society, of which Luka B. Konjevod is president, will also make its subscription today for $2000 worth of the Liberty Bonds.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU BROADENS ITS SCOPE.

With the closing of the Federal employment office in the postoffice building the actual consolidation of the public employment offices in Los Angeles under a single administration becomes effective. As now constituted, the Public Employment Bureau is a Federal-State-city institution, and as such represents the strongest possible administrative combination.

VICTORY LIES WITH PRAYER.

Pray! Pray! for Success of Nation, Pastor Urges.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke Emphasizes its Power.

Invulnerable Factor in Fight for Right, He Says.

By Charles Edward Locke.

When at the battle of the Marne, the Prussian hordes outnumbered the Allied forces four to one, and the tide of battle suddenly turned and a great victory was won for freedom and righteousness and the Hun retreated in confusion, a French general, when asked how it all occurred, replied, "Le Bon Dieu" (the Good God.)

Because we believe that God always stands within the shadows keeping watch above His own; we are emboldened to pray, and in all the tragic history of the fierce battles which truth has been forced to wage in defense of God and humanity, prayer has been a powerful and invincible force.

Prayer is a true and tried weapon of warfare. When in medieval days a Saxon king invaded Wales, he saw a company of men grouped upon a hillside, and when he was told that they were a band of holy men praying for his defeat, he shouted angrily: "Attack them first, for they have begun the fight against us."

Prayer must be reckoned with as an active, ubiquitous, invulnerable factor in all battles for truth and righteousness. Queen Mary declared she feared the prayers of John Knox more than all the armies of Europe. She knew that the prophet of God had armies to do his bidding which the bloody Queen's abused conscience revealed to her guilty soul.

MUST PRAY.

The world belongs to the people who pray. If we would conquer, we must pray, pray, pray.

Washington was on his knees in th esnow at Valley Forge; and at 5 o'clock each morning at the White House attendants could hear the voice of Mr. Lincoln as he fervently prayed God for guidance; and Oliver Cromwell many times over stood the keyhole test, and, likewise, set his whole army to praying. The victory at Dunbar was a conquest of prayer.

Gen. Pershing urges his soldiers to pray; Gen. Haig is a devout Christian, and Marshal Joffre is a man of God.

Abraham Lincon said: "I have been drawn many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go but to God." When the word reached Washington that Gen. Lee had surrendered, the President called a meeting of his Cabinet. No one was able to give expression to his feelings. At length Mr. Lincoln suggested that they drop to their knees. In silence and tears they made their humble and joyful acknowledgments to Almighty God for the victory of freedom.

Faith and works, prayers and deeds have been united at God's hymoreal altars and what God hath joined together let no man put asunder.

Prayer is character! Prayer is life! Prayer is conquest! Prayer is a double-edged all-conquering sword. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of;
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

PRAY FOR EVERYTHING.

Therefore, if we would win this war, we must pray;

We must pray, pray, ceaselessly pray!

We must conserve food, and pray!

We must buy Liberty Bonds, and pray!

We must train our soldiers, an't pray!

We must build our guns and ships, and pray!

We must execute all traitors and spies, and pray!

We must thoroughly spank the pacifists, and pray!

We must fight like brave heroes, and pray!

We must keep our powder dry, and pray!

"O watch and fight and pray,
The battle ne'er give o'er,
Renew it boldly every day,
And help divine implore."

Let us pray at high noon, in the morning, in the evening, and at night; and the God of prayer, who is the God of liberty, will give us victory. As the brave officer said when he saw the fearful atrocities of the Huns: "God will never let those devils win!" Victory is ours, if we pray, for we are fighting the battles of God Almighty!

A few more pyrrhic victories for the Huns like the battle of Picardy, and Kaiserism will be forever crushed. Therefore, pray!

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Jas. Rounsaus, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrberg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years it has been correcting such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Noon Prayer Signal

pressed the farewell kiss upon the soft flesh of her boy's tender lips and her dear eyes smiled the loving encouragement which strengthened him in his moment of parting, while the heart under her trembling bosom was being torn with grief as she bravely sent forth her son to an alien land.

And the Gentile mother did the same.

And so the world is akin in this terrible hour of sorrow and together we should turn our thoughts to God in prayer.

After all, it is a small thing to do to lift our thoughts to God now that we need Him so. But it is a human trait to forget, and we need a constant reminder, and the ringing of our bells will be a lovely one.

In every city and town of our country public bells of all description and church bells of all denominations should be rung at high noon to remind a busy people to raise their thoughts to God in supplication for the spiritual welfare of our Liberty boy and his country.

All the world is abroad at high noon and the little school children going homeward will hear the bells and continue on their way with a prayer in their hearts and upon their lips. And heads that never before were bowed will bow, and millions of them will continue to bow long after peace is declared.

RING TWELVE TIMES.

To distinguish the sound of the bells rung for this purpose from the ringing of the bells for any other cause, the bells should peal twelve distinct times.

There is a great physchological reason for this request of a national moment of prayer, and the people of the town of Hueneme, Cal., have proven to their great satisfaction that the saying of prayers for their soldier boys holds a great power.

When our boys were conscripted they were called away from their home and its carefree, indulgent environment and placed in cantonments with their splendid, though rigid, military discipline. The first condition this produced was a desperate loneliness. And this was a psychological moment and we took advantage of the fact to at once send the word forth to our boys that the "home town" had pledged themselves in a body to back them with our loving letters, gifts and prayers.

This produced a great effect upon our boys and we obtained the very result we desired. And the following two quotations will suffice to show how well our boys understood just what the moral support of the home-town backing meant to them.

"It's the spirit of such women as you that puts the 'pep' into the boys behind the guns."

"You cannot imagine how it affected me when I received your letters, with their loving thoughts carrying with them their great spiritual influence and loving reminders that the 'home-town' is back of me. It puts a new spirit into me and a great desire to make good."

ALL BACK OF HIM.

We are going to have another call for our men to give up the home ties and go forth for the protection of womanhood and democracy, and the psychological moment will come again to plant the same knowledge in the minds of every liberty boy while his whole mentality is in the throes of the unsettled condition this pathetic call to war produces, that every soul in this great United States is gladly backing him with their loving thoughts, their finances, their sacrifices and their prayers, and watch the force of the power they thereby receive and which they will recognize that will be with our boys when they go to meet the Hun in "No Man's Land."

It is a simple matter to make an indelible impression upon the human mind if you do so at a psychological moment, if we can get our country's people in a body, turning to God for help and all making the same definite plea that the God power be with our boys when they go to the trenches, our boys will receive it and go forth with a power of which God alone has the giving.

But for our boys to receive it we must ask for it.

All the world is awakening to the knowledge of the power of the unseen forces. And all the world feels the forces behind the Kaiser.

Our senses tell us that that which destroys, tears down, crushes, demoralizes and murders, is not of good, for good does not do these atrocious things.

There was a Master sent to this world over 1900 years ago and his name was Christ. He came to teach the world the new law, and he came to teach the world how to use the power for good, and these are the things he told us to do to bring the power of the unseen forces for good to us.

TOLD TO PRAY.

He told us to pray, and he said, "When ye pray, pray thus," and he gave us the Lord's Prayer. He also said, "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them," proving that when many pray together it brings the Christ power to their midst, and he said, "Ask and ye shall receive," and again he said, "And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive."

Our boys have gone to the trenches of France to fight the material battle of brains, science and metal against brains, science and metal, but their people at home should follow the teachings of the Master who came to enlighten the world in the knowledge of how to bring to their midst the power of the unseen forces for good. We are a God-loving nation and we believe in the God power, and if we ever needed his help, we need it now in this dreadful day of the brutal butchery of His children.

So let the American people bring to their midst this great power of the unseen forces in this tragic hour of need.

Throughout the country, loyal Americans stand bareheaded for the length of five minutes while they pay respectful tribute to the music of our "Star Spangled Banner."

MISSION BELLS.

'Tis a beautiful thought that California, the paradise of our country, has her mission bells from one end of her State to the other, silent symbols of by-gone prayers, her musical sentinels lining the great highway from the south to the north. And, were it practical that they could be rung, it would be a glorious thing to hear, as one sped along the smooth surface of the broad roadway, the melody of the bells with their musical plea to the loyal Americans to lift their thoughts to the unseen power and bring it to their midst. Every sister State will follow our example and the peal of the Liberty Bell will re-echo the melody of the California bells from the great Pacific to the broad Atlantic calling to a sorrowing world to lift her thoughts to God in prayer.

It is a psychological fact that where many are holding the same thought the result of that thought is obtained.

Therefore, let us ask for the God power to be given us which shall deliver us from the evil which threatens the very destruction of the human race and, "believing ye shall receive it."

Secret Out.

SOUNDS JUST LIKE PLOT OF SOME FLICKER DRAMA.

AT LAST—a real, live, lovely heiress has joined our film colony! Her stage name is Edna Earle, and at present she is working at Universal, under the direction of Ida May Park.

But of course, it's her real name that counts, and that is Marguerite Skirvin, and her papa's name is well known to Bradstreet, being William Skirvin, capitalist, mine owner, and proprietor of various oil wells in Oklahoma, as well as of a string of hotels throughout the East. Her brother, William Skirvin, Jr., holds a prominent government position in Washington, D. C.

Miss Earle has been a beautiful mystery to the West, ever since she came here a couple of weeks ago. Everybody knew she was very lovely to look at, that she had her own car and beautiful clothes, and that she had worked in pictures in New York. Also some of them dimly remembered having seen her somewhere before—and then suddenly remembered it was on the stage in Henry Savage's "Excuse Me," which was the first engagement she ever got.

But nobody could tell just who she was. She had no trouble in getting a position at Universal, because she really had accomplished a great deal for so young a girl—she's only 20 now—and so deserved to get an engagement by reason of her talents and beauty.

But now the mystery is all explained. One day, out in Oklahoma City, lovely Marguerite Skirvin, just out of college, decided she was tired of everything she was doing—that she wanted to work. But Popper Skirvin couldn't see it that way at all. So she told him she was going to Pittsburgh to visit her brother. But she didn't go to Pittsburgh. Instead she went to New York—and got an engagement in "Excuse Me" the moment she poked her pretty head in at Henry Savage's office door.

And then she changed her name. Who would want to go on the stage and play romantic heroines with a name like Skirvin, anyhow? Clara Kimball Young had once played a role named Edna Earle. Just the thing! Miss Young was Miss Skirvin's ideal. Then she got a picture engagement.

By and by Popper Skirvin somehow found out that Marguerite wasn't merely attending tea rieta and shopping bees in New York. Maybe he saw her on the screen; anyhow he forgave her.

Seriously Miss Edna Earle is one of the most beautiful actresses on the screen today, as well as one of the most talented. She has made a success of which even Popper Skirvin can be proud.

the Almighty. For some time past in various Protestant bodies—particularly here in the First Methodist Episcopal Church—it has been the custom of groups of members to covenant together to pray for each other or for some specially desired object for a moment at the noon hour. Under the proposed plan, Catholic and Protestant and Jew can unite in the observance of this silent plea to the God of Battles to safeguard and support the men of America struggling for a world freedom.

All hail to the plan for a universal moment of prayer at the ringing of the bells at noontide. The sentiment is sweet and comforting, and the result should be helpful to the supplicator as well as bringing to the men in service the sustaining knowledge that they are upheld before God each day by thousands of loyal hearts.

The modest little Laguna schoolhouse, built in 1906 on ground that was a part of the old Don Lugo grant, and just opposite his old home, has the honor of being the first secular institution to observe the noon moment of prayer by the ringing of its bell.

This idea was instituted through the Red Cross auxiliary, inspired to action when Mrs. Thomas Hodgins read to its members the article in The Times by John S. McGroarty, "Ring Bells in 'Remembrance.'" With the sounding of the schoolhouse bell, pupils and many residents of the district raise their silent prayers for God's blessing on the men in service under the flag.

A sign has been placed at the junction of three important roads, calling public attention of travelers to the purpose of the noon bell, and asking all within its hearing to join in the prayer for the service men.

HELD AS ENEMY.

Man Arrested for Petty Larceny; Will be Investigated by Federal Authorities.

Charged with petty larceny and suspected of being an enemy alien, Fred Bouchard, 21 years old, a waiter, was arrested Saturday night by Detectives McNamara and Carroll in a hotel at Fifth and Spring streets and lodged in the City Jail for Federal investigation.

According to the police, Bouchard went to the hotel and asked for work as a waiter. He was refused and as he left, the police say, he picked up a small package, belonging to a hotel guest. Hotel attaches caught the man and held him for the police.

At Central Station last night, Bouchard said he arrived in the United States three years and a half ago from Berlin. He also told the police that he took out his first naturalization papers and then enlisted in the army, later being mustered out because of a broken ankle. There are said to be numerous peculiar occurrences connected with the man.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden; a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure. You can take off the fat where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a case today. Your druggist sells them at 75 cents or if you prefer you may write direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-by to dieting, exercise and fat.

BISHOP CANTWELL APPROVES PLAN FOR NOONDAY PRAYER.

DIOCESE OF MONTEREY AND LOS ANGELES
1031 West Second Street

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 5, 1918.

Mrs. Gertrude D. Treher,
Los Angelps, Cal.

Dear Madam:

I have heard with considerable pleasure of the movement inaugurated by you to have our people devote some time to prayer at noon each day for our boys in the army and navy. The movement has my entire sympathy. Never, more than at present, was there need of divine help and any agency that helps to bring the minds of our people to the thought of God and the necessity of divine assistance must meet with my entire approval.

It is well to have our people at stated times turn from the rush and the worry of worldly pursuits and commune with Him who alone has power to help and console.

I sincerely wish that your movement will be taken up by the civil authorities in city and State, so that all of our prayers may be poured forth in unison for the one purpose—the welfare of our children and the success of our arms.

Yours very sincerely,
[Signed] JOHN J. CANTWELL,
Bishop of Monterey and Los Angeles.

CANADIAN RED CROSS

MANITOBA BRANCH

To Canadians in California:

In order to meet the increasing demands on the Canadian Red Cross to maintain and extend its work for the wounded soldiers in the trenches, clearing stations, and hospitals of France, England and Canada, largely increased funds are necessary for this year, and a campaign is being carried on through the Province of Manitoba on the days of April 9, 10, 11, 12, to raise $600,000, Manitoba's pledge to the Red Cross for 1918.

We know that it is only necessary to call the attention of Canadians in California, to secure generous support from them in this campaign.

You will remember that the most in money any of us can give would not weigh against the gift of sacrifice that the humblest soldier in the field has made. The most any of us can give is the least we can do. So that an opportunity may be afforded every Canadian in California to have a share in the great work of mercy carried on by the Canadian Red Cross, we have formed a California Committee, and are asking that your donations be made during these four days through this committee.

Mr. Robert McKay, of Messrs. Allan, Killam and McKay, Winnipeg, member of the Executive of the Red Cross Society of Manitoba, is to be Chairman of the Committee, and its headquarters for the four days of the campaign, April 9, 10, 11, 12, will be in his apartment, The Palace, Long Beach, California, where he can be reached in person or by telephone, telegraph or mail.

Make your contribution a generous one and let it reach Mr. McKay's hands before Friday.

Contributions are solicited en bloc, or in the form of a pledge for the year in twelve consecutive monthly payments. Make checks payable to order of Robert McKay, marked "For Red Cross."

COMSTOCK LODE IS INCREASING OUTPUT.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VIRGINIA CITY (Nev.) April 5.—The weekly output of the Comstock lode has increased approximately to 550 tons, of which 550 are from the Union Consolidated and Consolidated Virginia mines and the remainder from the Jacket-Crown Point-Belcher group. Development of the main ore body on the 2400 and 2500 levels of Union Consolidated continues. Including the regular and extra dividends paid April 1, the Union Consolidated has distributed five dividends totalling $50,000 since January 1.

Fair grade quartz is commencing to develop in the northeast section of the 2700-foot level of the Consolidated Virginia and from the 2000 workings $15 ore is produced. The 2000-foot level of the Ophir has been repaired preparatory to lateral developments and the Sierra Nevada reports ore showings on the 2500 level.

ASSERTS WELL OF VALUE IS ASSURED.

Reports from the True Oil Company's property yesterday were that drilling operations are progressing very satisfactorily. The blue shale in which the drill now is makes a better showing of oil with increased depth, it is stated. The superintendent of the work states that he is positive that a well of commercial proportions will be brought in with the penetration of this shale.

The financial condition of the company is said to be good, and developments are being watched with interest, as the bringing into production of this field would add materially, in time, to the State's oil output.

RELIGION.

Services Yesterday.

THE PREACHERS.

GO INTO THE HIGHWAYS AND HEDGES SEEKING SINNERS.

Pastors of Los Angeles yesterday spoke on widely divergent themes, but many of them referred in their sermons to the fact that this is the first anniversary of America's entry into the war, and there were also patriotic appeals for the support of the Liberty Loan. Issues of the war found place in many discourses, and one pastor said that in all our talk about the Allies, we must not forget the heavenly allies on the side of eternal right, while another speaker declared that in the end every nation will have, in one way or another, its just punishment and reward.

DR. PATTON.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

LAY DOWN YOUR MONEY FOR LIBERTY BONDS AND SAY: "HERE IS WHERE GOD WINS AND WHERE I CAN HELP HIM."

In a sermon on "Struggle and Rest in the Kingdom of God," in the First Congregational Church yesterday, Dr. Carl S. Patton said:

"God has no life of His own, distinct from yours and mine, and everybody else's. God thinks with human brains, feels with human hearts, works with human hands, lives in you and me, and in all men and women everywhere. There is no victory of right over wrong that He can win off there somewhere by himself, aside from that which you and I and the others win. There is no defeat He can suffer off there by Himself apart from the rest of us. What makes him God, is just the fact that He thus lives, and moves, and has His being in us all. If that is true, then what you do—whether you just drift along with the tide, or pull up against it like a man; whether you live like a hero, or like a sponge—makes not only a difference to you, but makes a difference to the whole thing. The whole outcome is different—God's victory, God's success, God Himself, is different for what you do. God will win—you can't defeat Him—but His victory will lack something, not for you only, but for the whole world and for God, which it would have had in it if you had won for Him and with Him.

"Here is your ground for both struggle and rest in the kingdom of God—for effort as rugged, as sustained, as vigorous, as your whole soul can put forth, and yet for an assurance 1000 times deeper than your own soul. It is your clue to action in the months that lie directly ahead. Say to yourself, 'God will win,' but say also, 'Not without me.' Give your money to the Red Cross, the Y.M.C.A. war work, lay it down for Liberty Bonds, and say as you do it, 'Here is where God wins, and where I help Him, and where I win for Him and with Him.' Do your part, whatever it is, little or big, in this great conflict of the nations that is now raging. Do it up to the handle. Do it for all there is in you, and say, as you do it: 'God wins; but not without me, for here I am.' I think there never was a time when the great apostle would so gladly say to the whole world, 'Work out your own salvation—for it is God that worketh in you,' as today when that world sits, anxiously and yet in supreme confidence, listening for its word from the front. Work it out in your own heart; work it out, so far as in you lies, for this great family of God's of which you are a member. Work it out, O world at war—work it out if need be, at the cannon's mouth—in pain and travail and confusion; but work it out with confidence, unshaken and unshakable, for it is God that worketh in you."

REV. JOHN SNAPE.

HOLLYWOOD BAPTIST.

ALL THAT WE HAVE WE HOLD IN TRUST, AS STEWARDS; AND WE ARE BOUGHT WITH A PRICE.

"My Stewardship" was the sermon theme of Rev. John Snape yesterday in the Hollywood Baptist Church. He said in part:

"All that we have we hold in trust. We are simply managers of a trust fund, we are not proprietors; we are not earth owners; we are tenants. Even the clothing on our backs is second-hand clothing—it was worn first by another animal. We cannot even lay claim to self-possession; we are bought with a price, we are not our own.

"Stewardship is co-operation, administration, economy. It is required of stewards that a man be found faithful, wise and good. We are stewards of the grace of God, of the mysteries of God and of the money intrusted in our hands for right investment. I heard this prayer once at a Methodist camp meeting—it is worth remembering: 'Oh, Lord, help is to have our savings bank in heaven, that when we die we may go to our riches instead of from them.'"

REV. H. B. SMITH.

IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN.

IN ALL OUR TALK ABOUT THE ALLIES LET US NOT FORGET THE HEAVENLY ALLIES ON THE SIDE OF ETERNAL RIGHT.

Rev. Herbert Booth Smith's sermon in Immanuel Presbyterian Church yesterday was on "The Unseen Reinforcements," and he said in part:

"Germany is suffering from moral nearsightedness. It is a case of national astigmatism. She needs to go to the great Optician of the universe and get her glasses changed. She has said that she is surrounded by hostile enemies and that hers is a case of justifiable homicide in a war of self-defense.

"In all our talk about the Allies let us not forget the heavenly allies, the unseen reinforcements which are ever at the side of eternal right. It is wonderful how we respond unconsciously to our environment. God is the environment of the soul and the spiritual life responds unconsciously to Him. That is what St. Paul meant when he wrote, 'Ye are complete in Him.'

"Tyndale, dying a martyr's death, cried, 'Oh, Lord, open the King of England's eyes.' Jesus on the cross said, 'Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.' Elisha prayed that the servant's eyes might be opened, and the prayer was answered, and the young man saw the horses and chariots of fire. Let us do the same thing. Let us make every day a day of humiliation and prayer, asking God to open the Kaiser's eyes to the enormity of the thing which he has done. And have we not a right to believe that it will one day be written, 'And the Lord opened the Kaiser's eyes, and he saw?'"

ROBERT WALTON.

KROTONA INSTITUTE.

IN THE END, EVERY NATION WILL HAVE, IN ONE WAY OR ANOTHER, ITS JUST PUNISHMENTS AND REWARDS.

"Some Karmic Lessons of the War" was the subject of Robert Walton yesterday afternoon at Krotona Institute. Speaking of the atrocities of the Germans, Mr. Walton said:

"For these barbarities the Germans themselves will have to suffer," and the speaker made the prediction of future revolution for the Central Powers.

Mr. Walton contended the war is being utilized by the governing intelligence of the planet to teach the peoples of each of the countries involved the exact lesson each most needs to learn and that while some, such as Belgium and Serbia, receive their suffering, purging and spiritual purifying earlier than others, and even at the hands of those others, in the end every nation will, in one way or another, have its just punishments and rewards.

FRANK RILEY.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

WHEN THE REAL, OR MENTAL, CAUSE OF DISEASE IS DISCOVERED AND DESTROYED THE PHYSICAL CAN BE IGNORED.

Frank Riley spoke before the Los Angeles lodge of the Theosophical Society last night on "Psycho-Therapy," saying in part:

"Theosophy teaches that the physical is but one of the planes of nature. In the treatment of disease, to ignore the mental factor is sometimes fatal. The body may react on the mind, but the wise man is he who does not allow the body to control him. Inharmony in the mind often produces disease in the body. There are usually two causes of disease—the physical or exciting cause, and the mental or predisposing cause. When this is the case, both causes should be removed. Sometimes, when the real mental cause is discovered and destroyed, the physical can be ignored.

"Psycho-Therapy is mental or soul therapy. Its object is to ascertain the weakest link in the chain and then to strengthen it. A sound mind in a sound body is most essential to happiness and longevity. 'A merry heart doeth good like a medicine.'"

Where Tuberculosis Patients of Three Counties will be Treated.

Main building of proposed Sylmar sanatorium in the San Fernando Valley.

Humanitarian.

THREE-IN-ONE HOSPITAL PLANS ARE APPROVED.

THE Sylmar Sanitarium for tuberculosis patients, a tri-county institution, because Ventura and Santa Barbara counties have joined with Los Angeles county in contributing towards its cost, will shortly be a reality in the San Fernando Valley. The plans for the various buildings have been prepared and approved by the Board of Supervisors here, and work will be started on the structures before July 1. The State will pay a subsidy of $3 a week a patient.

The infirmary and administrative offices will be housed in a one-story building on the country club plan. It will cost $51,000 and the dimensions will be 322x40 feet. It will be constructed in fan-fashion and will have accommodations for about fifty patients.

Two men's wards will accommodate twenty-six patients and the women's ward the same number. The cost will be $12,000. The building will be 175x40 feet in size and one-story high.

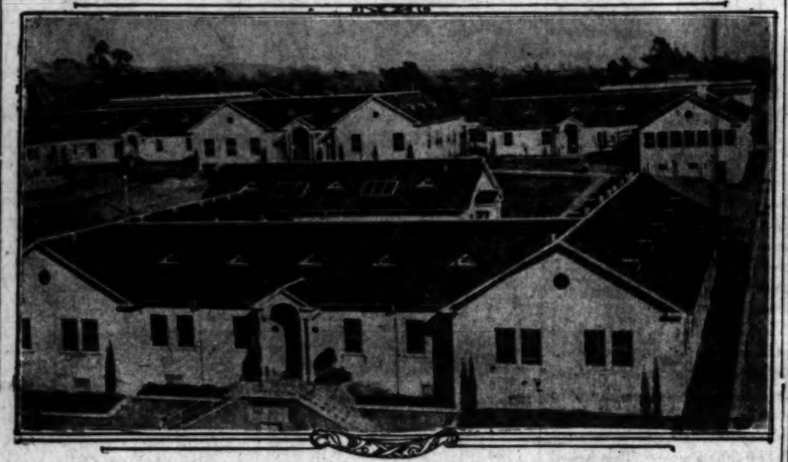
The service building will cost $20,000, and it will be 145x60 feet. It will be laid out on the cafeteria plan, with dining-rooms for men and women on either side and the kitchen between. There will be a modern refrigerator plant and ample kitchen accommodation.

The nurses and internes will be housed in a building 50x58 feet in size. It will cost, with the building for the help, 50x25 feet, $10,000.

The superintendent of the sanitarium will have a neat cottage, and there will also be a garage for the county machines.

N. R. Martin, superintendent of charities, will have charge of the sanitarium. The site the Supervisors selected consists of 414 acres, formerly owned by John T. Wilson, and bought for $12,300. The location is one mile north of Sylmar near the foothills. The elevation is 1700 feet, and the buildings will overlook the San Fernando reservoir and Los Angeles.

Santa Barbara county will contribute $15,000 and Ventura $11,000 towards the construction of the sanitarium and each county will send its patients to Sylmar. The Public Welfare Commission of this county, of which Supervisor Dodge is chairman, has direct supervision over the Sylmar institution which bids fair to be a model one. The location is ideal, the object being to place consumptives in the sunshine, housed in light, airy buildings.



Birds-eye view of Ellen G. White Memorial Hospital, Which will be dedicated to public use, the 21st inst., with appropriate ceremonies.

HOLLYWOOD CHURCH HAS NEW PASTOR.

DR. LEWIS THURBER GUILD IN PULPIT OF METHODIST EPISCOPAL.

With the placing of Dr. Lewis Thurber Guild in the pulpit of the East Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church, it is planned to make this one of the most important centers of the denomination in the city. Dr. Guild assumed the pastorate yesterday after five years devoted to editorial work. His last charge was the Methodist Church in San Diego, which was dedicated and paid for during his pastorate.

The new pastor has filled some of the most important pulpits in the denomination, including St. Paul's Methodist Church in Toledo, O., the largest Protestant church in that city. During the last five years, Dr. Guild has traveled extensively, has been a Chautauqua lecturer, and has spoken from the pulpits of historic churches both here and abroad.

The new pastor's creed is summed up in his avowal that he would rather preach to make the world better for little children to be born into, than to try to make old reprobates fit for the next world.

Dr. Guild is the owner and editor of the Santa Monica Outlook, which he purchased a year ago. He came to that city from Fargo, N. D., where he had been active in politics and as a newspaper proprietor.

Germs in Cups Give Influenza.

Drinking cups commonly used by the employees were the source of the epidemic of influenza which recently appeared in the offices of the Commonwealth Edison Company and of the St. Paul Railroad freight offices. That was the statement made at the health department yesterday. Germs of pneumonia and of catarrh were found in the throat cultures taken by the department and also in the drinking cups.—[Chicago Herald.

LET HIM SQUEAL.

Why the delay in the execution of Bolo Pasha? Is the French government getting some valuable information out of him? Bolo may be more valuable to the Allies alive than dead. They do say he is a "squealer"—and we hope he will squeal to the limit. Who got his money here in America?

DISTURBING THE WAR.

A Norwegian at Long Beach narrowly escaped rough usage at the hands of a mob when he made disloyal remarks concerning the United States. He was sentenced to ninety days in jail for disturbing the peace. More correctly speaking, he was properly punished for attempting to disturb the war.

DEFEATED AGAIN.

The Master Painters' proposed ordinance was turned down by the City Council when it was discovered that the measure contained a joker which would have forced a closed shop in Los Angeles. The loud-mouthed agitator doesn't dare to do much agitating in the open in this city, but the slick political unionists are doing their best to make the free Los Angeles laborers slaves to organized unionism. However, they are having a pretty tough time getting under the skin of the thousands of independent, satisfied workers who are backed by both their employers and a diligent City Council.

THE LION'S CLAW.

One of the pet lions at a local moving picture studio recently came near tearing the heroine to pieces and would have done so had it not been for the interference of the director. The beast had been used in numerous pictures before but had always been gentle as a kitten until this particular day, when he remembered that he was a lion and made his keepers remember it. Germany is a lion with which the United States played for years before discovering that the brute had claws. Uncle Sam is the hero who has undertaken to help rescue weaker nations from the talons of Prussianism.

NAUGHTY PHILADELPHIA.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has issued a statement on vice conditions in which the assertion is made that Philadelphia is the wickedest city in the United States. Its night life is depicted as utterly depraved. The Philadelphia editors are raising a great hue and cry about the report; but the simulation of righteous anger appears somehow like a bit of camouflage and their remonstrances read suspiciously like bragging. San Francisco and Milwaukee must look after their laurels. Meanwhile, there is some show of reason why there should be made wickedness in a night in Philadelphia than elsewhere; the nights are about four hours longer there.

A WARNING.

The Federal Food Board has warned the people to be most careful in the future when eating bread, cakes, rolls and pastry, because jagged bits of glass have been found in flour, bread and bread wrappers. The warning is timely. Although so far no organized attempt to work injury by placing glass in bread has been discovered, it is a fact that such acts have been committed, in New York and other eastern cities, by pro-Germanists engaged in bakeries and factories. It is a fiendish trick and has all the earmarks of Prussianism. The government that continues to send millions of its young men to the slaughter in a hopeless cause, that starves its own women and children, and that fires on hospital ships and churches filled with worshipers—such a government will not hesitate to demand the committal of the most unthinkable crimes at the hands of its 300,000 spies in an enemy land.

CONSCRIPTED FARMERS.

The proposed enrollment of 500,000 men for war emergency farm service this year would be sufficient to cultivate and harvest the crops now growing, and will to a considerable extent remedy the labor shortage. The men enrolled will be ready to give one or two days in each week or a month or more continuously to labor on the farms in the neighborhood of the cities where they reside. The Topeka State Journal says: "There is available in the United States a great host of men who will be able and glad to devote a part of their time this summer to farm work if they are advised of this opportunity to render invaluable patriotic service. College students, professional men, clerks and other employees who have vacations should be willing to devote them this year to productive work out of doors. Those who have had farming experience are especially needed." The Times will be glad to send an artist to photograph our leading lawyers hoeing potatoes, our physicians fertilizing cabbages, and our bank cashiers laboring "where oats, peas, beans and barley grow." To book-keepers and journalists unlearned in agricultural lore it commends the advice of Horace Greeley not to knock the turnips off the trees with clubs, but pick them carefully, and whenever they see a jimson weed, uproot it without mercy.

THE WORST WASTERS OF YOUR MONEY.

PUBLIC OPINION is demanding that the general round-up of slackers, food profiteers, hyphenated Americans and disloyalists generally shall extend to the pay-roll patriots who are clinging to their cushion-seated sinecures while the rest of the country is placing itself on a war basis. California has contributed $300,000,000 this year to the war budget of the Federal government. It is now preparing to make another contribution of more than $100,000,000 through the purchase of its quota of another issue of Liberty Bonds. This vast sum marks but a part of the patriotic efforts that Californians are making. It does not take into account the payments to the Red Cross and other auxiliary funds, or the amount of money expended in the purchase of thrift stamps. There is but one class that has not properly responded as a class to patriotic appeal; the bureaucrats of the Forty Fat Commissions have been as deaf to the calls of country as the traditional lamp post.

Despite the appeals of patriotism there has been but a single break in the ranks of the pay-roll figureheads and their hangers-on. A. H. Naftzger, vice-chairman of the State Council of Defense, has resigned his $6000-a-year sinecure and assigns as his reason for retiring that he is "weary of persistent criticisms concerning my compensation." This is an excellent beginning; it is the first time since the State government contracted the Progressive malady that one of the bureaucrats has surrendered voluntarily a highly profitable political place. Gov. Stephens may be inclined to regard Mr. Naftzger's resignation in the light of a vicarious sacrifice to atone for the sins of the whole of the forty fat commissions; but the taxpaying public will demand that his example shall be followed by at least a HUNDRED OTHER STATE COMMISSIONERS WHO ARE DRAWING FROM $5000 TO $10,000 A YEAR EACH FROM THE TAX FUND FOR SERVICES THAT ARE AN INCUMBRANCE TO THE LABOR AND INDUSTRY OF THE STATE, and are furnishing jobs to 2000 clerks, assistants and dependents.

II.

SCHOOL children are giving up candy and the luxuries of childhood and using their pennies to buy thrift stamps. Thousands of laborers, clerks, artisans, small cultivators and persons of limited incomes are making heroic sacrifices to do their part in financing the war. But the waste of State, county and municipal government in California is ten times as great as the total saved by all these sacrifices.

Eight years ago the total cost of State, county and municipal government in California was $98,000,000. Last year it was $176,000,000, and advance estimates indicate that this year's expense will be greater still. The per capita cost of our State government is more than twice the average for the nation; it is five times the cost of some Eastern States of similar population. When the war opened California had the most expensive and most wasteful State government in the Union; and the cost was increased several million dollars by the Legislature, which was in session when war was declared. Going back to the 1911 basis would save $78,000,000 a year.

Secretary McAdoo has appealed to every State to cut the cost of State and county government in order that more money may be available for the purchase of Liberty Bonds. More than $3,000,000 is paid each year in salaries to California commissions, and the response to the appeal of the Secretary of the Treasury has been the surrender of one $6000 place. THE PROMPT RESIGNATIONS OF 2000 NEEDLESS POLITICAL JOB-HOLDERS IN CALIFORNIA WOULD SAVE FOR THE PEOPLE NOT LESS THAN $3,000,000 A YEAR.

III.

NO MORE flagrant example of unscrupulous waste has been revealed since the war began than that of the State Railroad Commission. At the head of this commission are five commissioners who receive a salary of $8000 a year each. They are permitted by a complacent State law to make their own arrangements concerning the number of departmental employees and the salaries which they shall receive; and they have taken advantage of this act to build up a political organization which costs the State nearly $400,000 a year. This enormous expense was justified by the Progressive press on the grounds that such a commission was necessary to prevent the railroads from robbing the people. The railroads have passed under the control of the Federal government; the reason for the commission itself has ceased to exist; yet the commissioners are not only hanging on to their sinecures, but are continuing to employ the long list of high-salaried clerks and deputies. Here are the names of the five commissioners who are wasting $400,000 a year in public money in order that they and their political friends may live as slackers while those who pay that money are making heroic sacrifices to aid the country in winning the war: Max Thelen, E. O. Edgerton, H. D. Loveland, Frank R. Devlin, Alex Gordon. Before these men were appointed to office the gross cost of the Railroad Commission was $30,000 a year; under their management it has increased to $400,000 a year. The United States government is operating the railroads; by no stretch of the imagination can it be figured that these commissioners and their retainers are performing a public service in holding to their jobs. Their unpatriotic action is a menace to the Liberty units that California has sent to France. Money that should go to purchase food and equipment for those men is diverted to the State Railroad Commission and its employees. They are fair samples of the unnecessary job-holders who have been burdening taxpayers for seven years in the name of good government.

Another prolific source of waste is the Industrial Accident Commission, of which Meyer Lissner is the titulary genius. When this commission was constituted it was supposed to be self supporting; but it received an appropriation of $425,000 last year from the Legislature. Granting that such a commission is necessary, which is extremely doubtful, a gross expenditure of $25,000 a year in these tragic times should be sufficient. The commission is permitted to fix the number of its employees and their salaries, which explains why it costs the State more than $200,000 a year. Lissner receives a salary of $5000 a year; similar salaries are received by Will French and A. J. Pillsbury.

Three members of the State Board of Control are responsible for a gross waste of $150,000 a year. This board was created as an auxiliary to the Progressive State political machine. The duties for which it was originally intended are now performed by other departments; but it received an appropriation of $301,000 from the last Legislature. If the board were to close its office tomorrow the State would save $150,000 a year and the public service would not suffer in the least. For the State Controller's office provides all the check that is necessary on State expenditures and the commissioners and their appointees would have extreme difficulty to show cause why they should not be clagged as slackers, not for evading service in the army, but for wasting public funds. The commissioners are three well-known Progressive politicians: E. A. Dickson, C. L. Seavey and Marshall de Motte.

Al McCabe, private secretary to former Gov. Johnson, has turned the Insurance Commission into a little political dynasty. He displayed his patriotism by lobbying through the Legislature an act increasing his salary from $4000 a year to $6000 a year. His contribution to the war programme is to draw $2000 a year more in pay than any other insurance commissioner has ever received. In addition, he has appointed a long list of clerks and deputies, fixing their pay himself. If this office were conducted on the basis of six years ago there would be a saving of $50,000, but it would necessitate cutting McCabe's salary and depriving a bunch of little politicians of their State pensions. McCabe is the ne plus ultra of pay-roll patriotism.

IV.

CALIFORNIA has three commissions which were created to provide sinecures for union laborites who took a leading part in former Progressive campaigns. They are the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Immigration and Housing Bureau and Industrial Welfare Bureau. These three commissions received appropriations from the last Legislature totalinig nearly $300,000. If all three were to be discontinued the taxpayers of the State would be $300,000 ahead. John P. McLaughlin, walking delegate, is the head of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. He has enough union laborites holding sinecures under him to make up a pay roll of more than $75,000 a year. Paul Scharrenberg, native of Germany and member of the notorious Coast Seamen's Union, is the directing genius of the State Immigration and Housing Commission. California is the only State that possesses the luxury of such a commission; its work is but a duplication of that of the Federal government; but it provides a pay roll of $40,000 a year. The Industrial Welfare Commission provides a fat sinecure at a ridiculously high salary for Katherine Philips Edson, listed as its "executive officer." If these three commissions were to be wiped out there would be no loss to the public service and $300,000 would be released for patriotic purposes.

When the last Legislature was called upon to put patriotism above politics, it responded by creating a State Colonization Commission and endowing it with an appropriation of $260,000. It was empowered to use as much of that sum as it deemed necessary for overhead expense and to devote the remainder to buying and selling real estate. Embarking in such a wildcat scheme at a time like the present is too utterly reprehensible for further comment. The waste entailed is little short of criminal. It is enough to make every loyal Californian hang his head in shame.

State Corporation Commissioner Carnahan discovered when he attempted to launch his boomlet for Governor that public opinion was casting in his direction distinctly hostile glances. He supervises a little dynasty that wastes thousands of dollars a year. Speculation is now limited and controlled by the Federal government; but this has not caused Carnahan to reduce his office force.

Three Progressive politicians are relieving the State of $75,000 a year through the medium of the State Water Commission. They are W. A. Johnstone, Irving Martin and A. E. Chandler. Each receives a salary of $5000 a year and they select their own deputies and fix their salaries. The work which the board was intended to supervise has been halted by the war, but salaries run merrily on.

These instances are given to illustrate the unparalleled and unprincipled waste in the State government alone. It could be continued through the whole of the forty fat commissions. The waste had assumed the proportions of a State scandal before the war; under present conditions it is worse. Yet it continues because those in authority hold that it would be bad politics to interfere.

IF THE STATE GOVERNMENT ALONE WERE PLACED BACK ON THE BASIS OF SEVEN YEARS AGO THERE WOULD BE A SAVING OF $18,000,000 A YEAR. SIMILAR RETRENCHMENTS IN CITY AND COUNTY GOVERNMENT WOULD EFFECT A GROSS SAVING OF $78,000,000 ANNUALLY.

V.

HOW futile it seems to urge citizens to collect old clothes, to save tin foil, to observe wheatless and meatless days when that waste of $260,000 for every working day in the year continues! It is an axiom of the old Roman law that when a criminal is acquitted the judge is condemned. Every citizen who permits this waste to continue without remonstrance is abetting an unfairness to our Liberty boys abroad, and those making loyal sacrifices at home. An open enemy is less to be criticised than some of the bureaucratic slackers who are imperiling the fate of the nation and of democracy by their heartless squandering of public money. Resign, resign, you political wastrels! Give up your fat and jobless jobs and let the money you draw be spent in the nation's defense! Follow the example of Naftzger—and speed up! Some of you have consciences and some of you love your country. Do the right thing—resign!

DROLL STORIES.

Father's Mind on Business.

The father in this moral little tale is a local manufacturer. Things hadn't been going well at the works, and he came home tired the other evening. But father is never too tired to help Willie with this arithmetic. So when Willie looked up from his book and asked—

"Father, how many cents make a dime?"

"Ten," replied father.

"And how many mills make a cent?" pursued Willie.

"Not a darn one of 'em, till this coal situation loosens up," answered father, emphatically. — [Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Wrong Conveyance.

The conversation in the lobby of a Washington hotel turned to the immensely wealthy, when Congressman James M. Hays of Utah related a little anecdote along that line.

Recently a man boarded a street car and after futilely fishing in all his pockets for some small change handed the conductor a ten-dollar bill.

"I am very sorry," apologetically remarked the passenger, "but this is the smallest money I have."

For one lingering moment the conductor looked scornfully, yet enviously, at the passenger and his ten, and then pulled the bell rope.

"You don't want a street car, mister," said he with considerable emphasis. "What you want is a taxicab."—[Philadelphia Telegraph.

Another Atrocity.

Little Ruth, who had been reading about the German atrocities in Belgium, went with her mother to the Museum of Arts.

"Oh, mother," she cried, standing in front of Venus de Milo. "Look what the German did to this poor Belgian woman."—[Orange Peel.

Plenty of Credit.

Mr. Butterworth, the grocer, was looking over the credit sales slips one day. Suddenly he called to the new clerk:

"Did you give George Callahan credit?"

"Sure," said the clerk. "I——"

"Didn't I tell you to get a report on any and every man asking for credit?"

"Why, I did," reported the clerk, who was an earnest young fellow. "I did get a report. The agency said he owed money to every grocer in town and, of course, if his credit was that good I knew that you would like to have him open an account here!"—[Rehoboth Herald.

A Picture.

Straightly drives the shining plowshare waking earth from winter's dream;
Straightly plods the faithful plowman crooning low his patient team;
Flock the white-winged gulls around him;
As a snowstorm all about him;
Wheeling, soaring, darting, hovering in the sunshine's golden gleam.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE YELLOW PERIL.

Once more we face the dandelions and forty-nine impassioned Bryans could not express the grief we're knowing as we behold the rank weeds growing. Once more, with knives and spades and diggers, we buckle down among the chiggers, uprooting weeds that keep on thriving, that simply will not quit surviving.
Oh, there are other deadly battles than those which wax where cannon rattles; and there are foes a lot more yellow than any dadblamed
Teuton fellow. Through wintry months I have been yearning to see the good old spring returning; I prayed for April with an ardor that made the March wind howl the harder; I filled the air with soulful sighs'n'—but I forgot the dandelions.
Jings! I was thinking of the roses which charm our winter weary noses; and of the buttercups and lilies which shoo away the dumps and willies. The dandelions I'd forgotten, and now they are a nuisance rotten. Each day my frau gives me a wigging because I hate the endless digging. "Go, do your bit," she says, uplifty, "and make the place look neat and thrifty; our neighbors there, the stately Ryans, have cleared their lawn of dandelions."
And so with digger I am wending, to start the war that knows no ending.

JUST IN JEST.

Tim: Are you going to Alice's birthday party?

Tom: What birthday is it?

Tim: Her twentieth.

Tom: No, I went last year.—[Froth.

In a hamlet near Ashford, boasting only nine inhabitants, the following notice has been posted up by the authorities: "In the event of an air raid do not collect in a crowd."—[New York Sun.

One of the girl ushers in a Flatbush theater had a problem offered her the other evening. She was showing two women to their seats.

"Is the show this evening fit for church women to see?" asked one of the pillaresses of a Flatbush congregation.

"I—I don't know," responded the girl. Then she brightened. "You see," she said, "I don't have no time to go to church."—[New York Mail.

Mr. Younghusband reached home late for dinner.

"I got caught for speeding on the way home," he explained rather sheepishly. "Have to appear tomorrow morning and get 'ten dollars or fifteen days.'"

Mrs. Younghusband fervently clapped two blistered little hands.

"What a providence!" she cried devoutly. "Take the fifteen days, John! The cook has just left!"—[Harper's Magazine.

We know a family in this town that has dinner every night at 6 o'clock now since the saloons are not allowed to sell strong drink. But it may only be a coincidence.

RIALTO COMPANY GETS SALE PERMIT.

The State Railroad Commission, announced yesterday, has authorized the Rialto, Light, Power & Water Company to sell, for $34,43..., to the Southern Sierras Power Company, its properties in and about Rialto. The Southern Sierras Power Company joined with the Southern Gas and Electric Light Company, the Bishop Light and Water Company, the Coachella Valley and Electric Company and the Rialto Company, in an application for authority for the Southern Sierras Company to buy the properties of the last-named corporations. The Rialto deal was consummated on December 31, 1917, and at that time the company had current assets of $6674.

No intolerance, say we.

Keep the home self cursing.

One man's Sunday is as good as another's.

The California Constitution stands against bigotry.

If a man wants a shave on Sunday, let him have it.

Our idea of nothing in particular is a eugenic love song.

Let us not try to force our own religious ideas down others' throats.

The officer who assisted in the capture of Jeff Davis is dead, also.

If a woman believes in celebrating Saturday as the day of rest, let her do it.

Don't shoot the Liberty Loan slackers until you can see the whites of their eyes.

Wonder when Russia proposes collecting the money that was loaned them at Brest-Litovsk?

Why compel a disloyal person to kiss the American flag? In our opinion it is an act of desecration.

Chinese eggs are again on the market. They are mighty fine—for those who like Chinese eggs.

And now there is some talk of the formation of a "milk pool." Why not that letting the cat out of the bag?

There are many ways the pacifist can serve at the front, besides carrying a gun. They can be kitchen policemen.

It is now proposed to postpone the election this year. The cause for the suggestion came from the Democrats.

The American soldier has succeeded in making the wrist watch fashionable. There was a time when this could not be said.

"Electricians should wear rubber hats," so runs a headline in a trade exchange. So should everybody during Southern California.

With the four conservation orders, the new brides are supposed to quit by 1st pretty good cooks. They are not compelled to cook with their hands.

Any measure calculated to suppress the freedom of the press will never be approved in this country. No person fears the press except those who have reason to. Congress should keep its hands off.

"All we have is yours to dispose of at your will," said Pershing to Foch. Every American will feel a similar emotion by reason of the magnificent tender. As Pershing said at the tomb of Lafayette, "We are here."

Dr. Karl Muck, leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is out of the inside looking out. But it should be remembered that Francis Scott Key wrote the "Star Spangled Banner" when he was in confinement.

And among the profiteers and women who lead a well-fed life at the end of a chain through the streets, the animal covered with a blanket, and everybody else, is influenced by the idiotic performance.

The first Liberty Loan paved the way for vast enterprises that started the American soldiers to their encampments. The Second put them in the trenches and helped speeded up the wheels of industry. The Third must send them over the top and on to victory.

There is nothing new in the old rummy old world. It now transpires that Benjamin Franklin first suggested that the clocks be turned forward an hour in order to get additional hour of daylight. And he was 125 years ago. Wasn't that Franklin some individual?

The expense of this war exceeds anything ever seen in history, even in terms of human life or of gold. Nevertheless the degree to which it exceeds the cost of former wars, and the comparative cost to this country against that for the Allies and the enemy, is illustrative of the importance of our assistance and the need of general subscription to the Third Liberty Loan.

BIG SHIPMENTS MADE BY TONOPAH MINES.

PIONEER COMPANY SETS NEW RECORD OF TONNAGE FOR RECENT YEARS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TONOPAH (Nev.) April 5.—The greatest tonnage shipped by the mines of Tonopah was registered last week, when the aggregate reached 10,782 tons, with the pioneer Tonopah Mining Company in the lead, contributing 4050 tons. This makes a new record for this property in recent years and almost touches the high-water mark of the history of the mine. Other shippers were Tonopah Extension, 2437 tons; Belmont, 1956 tons; Jim Butler, 365 tons; West End, 843 tons; MacNamara, 607 tons; Montana, 305 tons; Cash Boy, 160 tons; Halifax, 46 tons, and Rescue, 63 tons, with a total valuation of $183,464.

The long-anticipated hearing before the United States Supreme Court of the famous apex suit of the Jim Butler, Tonopah and West End Consolidated was held last week, when Hugh H. Brown, one of the attorneys for the Butler, wired as follows:

"The case was argued before the whole bench of nine judges in Supreme Court. Nine models and exhibits excited lively interest on the part of the judges and visiting lawyers. Judges asked many questions from the bench. Justice McKenna asked what would be the effect if this vein had another anticline nearer the surface than the one now in question. We hope for a decision in sixty or ninety days, but it may be longer. Court hardpressed with important cases."

Over $1,500,000 is impounded, awaiting this decision.

February earnings of the Tonopah Extension indicate that a gradual improvement is taking place in the mill heads that are being run at the company's mill.

C. R. Arnold of Oxnard, Cal., is one of the largest stockholders in the Gold Zone Divide Company, which was reorganized to operate on an assessable basis in the new Tonopah Gold Mountain district, which is centering local attention. This company is a relic of former years when a shaft was sunk to a depth of 300 feet and work abandoned because the stockholders would not put up any more money for necessary expenses. This was at the time when the district was unproven and nobody believed ore in paying quantities would be found at that distance from either Tonopah or Goldfield.

SEEK PROCESS TO SAVE ORE CONTENTS.

BUNKER HILL COMPANY'S MINE IS CLOSED PENDING INVESTIGATIONS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) April 5.—The closing down of work on the Bunker Hill Company's mine and mill is declared by officials of the company to mean simply that they have concluded to abandon milling till they have found a better process through which can be saved both the manganese and silver contents of the ore.

For some time large shipments of manganese have been made, but largely at the expense of the silver that once made this camp famous. It is considered a faulty system that is wasteful of the company's resources. Till some such system is evolved, the only mining on the property will be by leasers.

The mines are the property of the Phelps-Dodge Company, bought in June, 1914, for $600,000 at a receiver's sale. Though no attempt has been made to lower the water level, it has been understood that workings above the water, which are generally on extensions of the drifting of the old bonanza days, have given good returns. In the group are about 120 mining claims, with widely varying characteristics of geology and ore.

TAX COMMISSION SHOWS FAIRNESS.

SO SAYS UNITED EASTERN PRESIDENT, WHO IS NOW IN WASHINGTON.

Phillip Wiseman, president of the United Eastern Mining Company of Oatman, has gone to Washington in the interest of his company and relative to excess profit taxes as applied to gold mines. R. I. Rogers, vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank and also an officer of the United Eastern, yesterday received word from Mr. Wiseman, in advance of a definite settlement, saying that the tax commission is composed of big mining, oil and other business men who have assumed a perfectly fair attitude. The officers of the company are consequently much pleased. The United Eastern is not only one of the most valuable mines in the world, but also has one of the most capable and efficient managements.

Los Angeles Man Seeks Permit for Electrical and Water Project. Means Large Expenditure.

Wilbur O. Lusk of this city, it was announced yesterday, has filed with the State Water Commission an application for permission to appropriate 250 cubic second feet of the waters of Pit River, Hatchet Creek and Montgomery Creek, in Shasta county, for the development of electric energy at a drop near Round Mountain, and to use the same water for irrigation purposes after it has been utilized in the generation of electric power.

It is proposed to construct a ditch and pipe line six and a half miles in length, and the amount of electric power it is proposed to develop is 7500 kilowatts. It is proposed to construct a ditch and pipe line thirty miles, in length, from the proposed power plant to lands to be watered. These lands comprise approximately 40,000 acres. The total cost of the combined projects is placed at $250,000.

Waiting.

EXPECT ANOTHER GUSHER IN MONTEBELLO FIELD.

Standard Strikes Oil Sand and Proves Up Large New Petroleum Area.

THE Standard's Baldwin No. 4 well is about to be finished near the west line of the property at Montebello. The outlook is for a big well, it is stated. The work is in the oil sand and has already proved a large area—practically the entire Baldwin lease of the Standard, the west of the Riverside-Portland Cement Company's land, and the southwest portion of the Clara Baldwin Stocker land to the north. Wells are being drilled just across the line on both these properties. The new Baldwin well extends the proved area of the field west about three-quarters of a mile. It adds much to the prospects of the Interstate, Rice Ranch and Pan-American wells.

The Union's La Merced No. 3 well, to the south of the Baldwin lease, came in some two weeks ago and has been flowing 800 barrels daily since and has maintained its output, increasing it some days to as much as 1400 barrels. The tubing has now been successfully inserted and the flow is 900 to 1000 barrels.

The efforts to get oil on the Germain and the Howard & Smith lease of the Petroleum Midway, in the midst of the gardens and orchards of the foothills, between the town of Montebello and the Baldwin lease on the hills, is not meeting with much success. The Germain well is held up by fishing jobs and has not got deep enough to constitute a test. The Howard & Smith well reached a depth of 3400 feet, found no oil, and has been obliged to redrill. The job is proving long and costly, the work now being above the 3700-foot level, with the prospects of oil none too bright.

The General Petroleum has started two wells in the Montebello district. This company has acquired tracts in every section of the prospective field, so that no matter what direction the oil belt may be found to extend it can hardly miss one or another of the General Petroleum properties. Besides, the holdings acquired by the corporation some large tracts lying to the northwest and northeast of the field have been taken over by officers of the company through a trustee, and these may either be destined to be General Petroleum property or the property of a new corporation yet to be formed.

The hard formation encountered in the west and northwest of the field generally is not being encountered to the east. Here, on the contrary, the formation is easy, regular and promising.

QUARTERLY LETTER SHOWS ADVANCES IN ALL LINES.

Union Oil Company Reports Fourteen Per Cent. Profit Increase

THE Union Oil Company's quarterly letter for the three months ending March 31 shows an increase in profit before depreciation of $280,000, which is an increase of 14 per cent. over the corresponding period of last year. Provision for depreciation was increased $280,000, or 42 per cent., and the profit subject to war taxes was increased $100,000, or 5 per cent.

Production of crude oil by the company and controlled companies combined approximates 2,030,000 net barrels, an increase over the same period of last year of 400,000 barrels, or 30 per cent. The production for the quarter includes the oil produced from the Final Dome properties. The company now has three wells in the Montebello field producing approximately 2500 barrels per day.

Sales for the three months aggregate $9,170,000, an increase of $1,410,000, or 18 per cent. The deliveries of fuel oil have been large, the State stocks being further drawn upon, the report states, but the company is still carrying approximately the same quantity of crude oil in storage as at the beginning of the year. Capital expenditures approximate $900,000, consisting principally of the cost of new drilling and additions to manufacturing plants.

Current assets approximate $22,000,000, an increase over December 31 of $1,340,000, while current liabilities and accrued war taxes approximate $4,500,000, or about $400,000 greater than at the close of 1917. The report further states that during the three months the first mortgage bonds in the hands of the public have been decreased $300,000 and the final installment of the collateral trust notes has been met, thus cancelling a liability of $390,000 appearing in the balance sheet at the close of the quarter ending December 31, 1917.

An announced in The Times last week the Union Oil Company's regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share, together with an extra dividend of $1 per share, will be paid the 20th inst., to stockholders of record April 10, 1918.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

The ores politely requested to submit samples carefully reviewed and logged, with letter accompanying stating what tests are desired. Make samples of small size. There is no necessity for 10 pounds. Correspondents entering matter for analysis with ores, or scrap of paper, intended to show that the stuff is from Jim Jones, for instance, with no marks of identification on samples, will, hereafter, receive no attention whatever.

SILVER STRONTIANITE.

DAGGETT, March 17.

Q.: I found recently a ledge that may, according to formation, contain strontium. Under separate cover I am sending you a sample of it, and will appreciate, very much, having you classify it.

W. HIGGINBOTHAM.

A.: The sample is, probably, from a tarrow seam. It runs well in lime carbonate and strontianite is present to a fair per cent. In addition, a complex decomposition product (from rock of the mining boys) shows up in characteristic radiating form lamps. Iron is present, and not further tested.

AMPHIBOLE.

LOS ANGELES, March 17.

Q.: I think the mineral contains aluminum. If so, can you tell me what per cent. Is contained? Also, what is it? No. 2 specimen carries some little pyrophyllite.

DOUBTFUL TUNGSTEN ORE.

BONPINE, March 17.

Q.: Samples are from the locality. No. 1 from a large deposit; is it all lime carbonate? No. 2 is a black rock found in bunches deposited in. No. 1; what is it? No. 3 is from a large quartz ledge, and I think it carries tungsten. Is there enough tungsten present to be of commercial value?

A.: No. 1 is lime, aluminum, manganese and stibnite; trace carbonate with low per cent. Fuller's earth quarterly present. No. 2 is probably altered tourmaline of no gem value. No. 3 is quartz with traces of copper, iron, feldspar and traces of tungsten gold.

MAGNETITE AND SILICATE.

TRONA, March 18.

Q.: No. 1 sample is from a large dyke in Mojave, and the green stain is supposed to be copper. No. 2 is from a boulder imbedded in the dyke; it has my curiosity aroused. No. 3 also is from a boulder imbedded in the dyke.

A.: Probably the boulders came to the locality in the meeting ground with "wash," and later, air, heat and sparkling. During the ages, No. 1 is chiefly altered iron silicate with some pyroxene and low per cent. copper. No. 2 is quartz, iron, feldspar and traces of tungsten gold.

MAGNETITE AND SILICATE.

AURIFEROUS SHALE.

GLENWOOD (Utah) March 19.

Q.: Please give inclosed samples a Microscope examination, and oblige. H.

A.: There is some little supercessional pyrite in it. The specimens of which shale. The samples were pulverized and panned; one small color of free gold was obtained from the panning.

IRON OXIDES.

LOS ANGELES, March 19.

Q.: Samples from my claim. MIKE H.

A.: There are two samples in the lot numbered 2 and 3. No. 2 is iron (magnetite mostly with some hematite). No. 3 is iron oxide (hematite) with some limonite yellow-brown iron oxide occurs in the grays like forms. No. 2 is yellow ochre, and probably suitable for paint purposes.

LOW GRADE ORE.

LOS ANGELES, March 20.

Q.: I am sending you herewith a sample of ore, that I was told, contains iron in paying quantities. The sample is from West Virginia. Please examine and advise me, through your paper, as to grade, etc.

A.: The sample is a shale-like substance carrying blocks of "chloroidite" on one side. Magnesium silicate has good percentage. A very doubtful iron ore.

HOT OIL SAND.

ALTURA, March 20.—Q.: Will you kindly inform me whether the sample accompanying shows any indications of oil? Also, if there are indications would it be possible to tell from sample if it could be obtained in paying quantities at this location? Thanking you, etc. M.

A.: The sample is rather small for even a preliminary test. Traces of magnetite and pyrite in the sample, with crystals of quartz, and earthy matter. It is not possible to advise you further.

CINNABAR ABSENT.

BISHOP, March 20.—Q.: I am sending you a sample for analysis; what is it? Kindly publish the result of analysis in your interesting "In the Earth" column. J.

A.: The sample is simply altered hematite (red in color.)

BISMUTH ABSENT.

PORTERVILLE, March 20.—Q.: Thanking you very much for past favors, I am inclosing a sample of quartz, running $200 in gold, and it was been pulled from a shaft; sixty feet deep. Do you or have made, I believe it runs well in metallic bismuth; am I right, and if so, what per cent. bismuth? W.

INFORMATION LACKING.

TRONA, March 21.—Q.: Please publish in next Monday's Times what, if any, commercial values are contained in sample inclosed? What is its name? C.

A.: The minute trace of white carbonate is finely pulverized. It is a native compound, as how did you obtain it?

NOT MONTMORILLONITE.

ENCINITAS, March 22.

Q.: Please analyze the three samples marked with my cards on them. The Montmorillonite (or the mineral soap) comes from San Diego county, and there is any quantity of it. They tell me that every excavator and assayer in southern California has had it put up to them, and no one will take hold of it. It is a pure mineral soap, and comes from the north as I said it is. Put a little of it, well ground and dissolve it in water, wash your hands when they are greasy, or have tar on them, and note how readily they are cleaned and left soft as silk. It should take the place of thousands of tons of soap made from grease, and finally save the fat in lady who use. We also have a large quantity of Montmorillonite like the sample I am sending you; but it's a value, as it is white (just as it occurs naturely.) Will the specialists change on depth to a better grade? Is not Montmorillonite what is called "gumbo" in the Dakotas? I called it Montmorillonite, but from its whiteness and the soft curd like feel, I think it might be the composite for it. Will you kindly let me know? I have no blowpipe, or would not bother you about its identity. This is a curiosity, as it is the only one here on the Coast?

A.: There are great tonnages of similar, if not like, samples of clay now being submitted for analysis and work (mixed) water in chemical matter greatly. The samples sent hand about up as fine powder, diffuse readily and contain very clay minerals. As a matter of fact, your sample reacts fairly well for aluminum, iron.

The specimen is greyish white in color, and contains very high clay content. The Montmorillonite is a hydrous silicate of aluminum, iron and calcium, with a part of the latter sometimes replaced by magnesium. The Montmorillonite is a hydrous silicate of aluminum, iron and calcium, with a part of the latter sometimes replaced by magnesium. The analysis will probably not change greatly at depth; it may. Covered soon in a few feet deeper than where the sample was taken. Will be glad to make analysis of sample if desired. The sample is magnetic and crystallized earnest; it is of decided quality, but there is but little demand for such mineral, as yet, on the Coast.

CHIEFLY LIME CARBONATE.

EL CENTRO, March 24.

Q.: Kindly tell me what mineral the inclosed sample contains.

The sample contains a few specimen arsenic pyrite, iron, chalcopyrite, galena, and lead silver alloyed in iron oxides. Strontium traces.

MOLYBDENITE IN QUARTZ.

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 24.

Q.: I am sending you two samples. One of them is molybdenite; what value have they? The other sample is molybdenite? MICHELENE.

A.: The two samples are of very good value. While there will be some loss in crushing and washing, the molybdenite from the quartz will probably show (lead molybdenite) a value of $2.50 per pound, molybdenite. The canary yellow stain is molybdenite. The canary yellow stain is molybdenite. The canary yellow stain is

PENROD COMES TO LIFE.

TARKINGTON'S BOY HERO TO APPEAR ON STAGE.

By Grace Kingsley.

Now it's Penrod Schofield, Booth Tarkington's immortal boy hero, who is to be seen in the flesh. Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger are to bring him to life in a stage version of the famous stories which has been composed by Edward E. Rose. Penrod's well-known companions, the colored brethren, Herman and Verman, Sam Williams and the good little George Bassett, are also to be shown in the play.

The youngsters' roles are all to be played by children, and the selection of kid actors for the various roles will be a matter of the utmost importance.

The new play is to be produced in Atlantic City on May 20.

Says Good-by to Lasky.

Sessue Hayakawa completed his last picture with the Lasky company last week and said good-by to the film folk at that studio, with whom he had been so pleasantly associated for more than three years. Everyone wished him good luck in his new venture and assured him that they would be his constant boosters.

Accompanied by Francis J. Hawkins, vice-president and general manager of the Haworth Pictures Corporation, the Japanese star yesterday visited the most attractive of the studio sites which has been offered. He stated last night that a definite decision will be reached in a day or two regarding the selection of the future home of the company.

Conway Leaves Triangle.

Due to some brush with H. O. Davis, general manager of Triangle, regarding the production of "The Servant in the House," Jack Conway, who has been with Triangle for more than two years, last week severed his connection with the concern. Conway is one of the best-known directors in the business.

Goes Into Two-a-Day.

Vaudeville seems a good safe bet these days. At least the musical comedy stars appear to think so. Now it's Christie MacDonald, prima donna of various musical comedies, including "The Spring Maid," who will enter the two-a-day. She will be seen at the Orpheum some time this summer.

Pickford Is War Censor.

Though Jack Pickford is under draft age, he is considered by the War Department as a mighty clever boy. Therefore, when he reached New York he was assigned to the Intelligence Department, where he will serve his country, for the time being at least, by censoring films which are designed for export.

Clune's Broadway.

And now Mary MacLane, the epigrammatic—the lady whose "I's" go by like telegraph poles in her essays—has become a mere "movie" actress.

She's at Clune's Broadway this week in a picture entitled "Men Who Have Made Love to Me."

Really now, isn't it pathetic, that a brilliant lady like Mary MacLane, who has always given us to understand that she was terribly intellectual and all that, should have stooped to so obvious an art as posing for a picture melodrama? And it's such a limited art—she appears merely as a middle-aged and rather frumpsy old girl. Worse yet, there will be critics with the effrontery to say that if she could have stood those lovers of hers, they can't; and others, unkinder still, will say, as a man back of me did yesterday—"Well, I don't see how she ever got a feller anyhow!"

Miss MacLane smokes cigarettes and pearly swears. She says those love affairs were "damnably serious." To whom? The list includes a youngster of 19 (oh, yes; Mary is at least 40;) a baronet with no back to his head, a poor young painter who wears poor clothes and speaks good English, and a prize fighter who wears good clothes and speaks poor English—the sort that almost any dame would have kept dark instead of putting in a picture.

It was quite unnecessary for the producer to tell us Miss MacLane wrote the play herself. Mary appears even in the subtitles! There she is, smoking and chatting, with the poor little words put in wherever there is room.

No, Mary, go back to your epigrams—as a "movie" queen you're a brilliant writer.

first part. It will be easy to do so and you won't be bored by some rather old and mawkish stuff. The story is called "Those Who Pay," and was written by C. Gardner Sullivan and acted splendidly by Bessie Barriscale, Howard Hickman, Melbourne McDowell, Dorcas Matthews and others.

Beginning with the second reel, the story picks up, and rapidly speeds ahead to the front ranks of film stories. It has to do with a man and two women whom he loves, from a sociological standpoint. Ten years ago, that wife would have torn the other woman's hair out, which would have been much simpler for the man. In this story she sends for the girl, and between them they decide what to do with the man, and which shall have him. And when the man found the girl in his home and said mean things to her, didn't that wife just make him go and apologize! A wonderfully clever touch that, and so feminine, turning him over to the scorn of the other woman and letting that be his punishment! And at the end the girl didn't go over to the old sinner who had been lying in wait for her, either—she just managed a pitiful little smile as she waved her lover good-by as he passed out of her life, and sent the bunch of tempting pearls back to the other old sinner, presumably thereafter selling her jewels and learning to "steno," like a sensible girl.

A tremendously human, real and appealing story, directed in first class fashion by Raymond B. West.

Symphony.

From kid to king, who is there doesn't enjoy a corking detective story, especially when it has a goodly measure of comedy thrown in? "The Brass Tag," at the Symphony this week, is both good detective stuff and good comedy. It starts out with no clues for Francis Bushman to follow except a brass trunk tag and half a burned letter. But of course they lead ultimately to a bank account and Beverly Bayne.

In the interim the suspense is well sustained, and Bushman does some bushman stunts, the wildest of which is overpowering and tying up a farmer who is taking him to jail, leaving the rube in the bottom of the wagon and setting the horses on a smart jog down the road. But who would be such a spoil-sport to tell the ins and outs of a detective story. Just take my word, it's well worth seeing.

FILMS.

Kinema.

BRET HARTE'S "M'LISS."

MARY PICKFORD AS THE LITTLE DEVIL OF RED GULCH.

By Antony Anderson.

It matters not to Mary Pickford whether she is posed as a saint or a little devil—she falls gracefully into either attitude, and stays persistently "in the picture" till the film fades into the circumambient nothing. Which is only another way of telling you—what you know already—that Mary is a consummate actress, imbued with art to her very finger tips, and even to her very toe tips. (Her feet are more expressive than most people's faces.)

You may mark yesterday with a red letter, for she appeared at the Kinema in a brand new screen adaptation of Bret Harte's delightful piece of impossible western romance, "M'liss." Bret wasn't true to facts, but he had a wonderful instinct for the mise en scene, and he was one of the biggest things that ever happened in San Francisco. More, he was the most sympathetic chronicler of the forty-niners who ever pushed a fluent pen. In "M'liss" we meet again with the joyous Yuba Bill, with the Judge, with Bummer Smith, with M'liss herself, and with half a dozen other spacious characters.

The Artcraft filmed the pictured version—which is tantamount to saying that the photography is wellnigh perfect, with outdoor vistas of mountain and forest and sunlit glade that take you with their beauty. There's the element of magic in the Artcraft photography—it transcribes the loveliness of a leaf with the same exquisite precision that it records the fleeting expression of a face or the modeling of a cheek or the nuances of an interior.

"M'liss" is so enjoyable as a comedy of early California—a comedy mixed with a tragedy that always lurked so near in those days—and it is so breezy and fresh and human, so elemental, if you like, that it is a pleasure from beginning to end. Mary Pickford's support—but I need only mention Tully Marshall and Tom Meighan and the others, to assure you of how truly supporting the actors are.

"The Boss of the Lazy Y."

In "The Boss of the Lazy Y," a Triangle production presented at the Riviera this week, we are still in the glad confines of the West. All the world loves our wildness, and it positively gloats over the woolliness in which these imaginative scenario writers smother us. We are not in the least lake that, but we wish we were, and we are pleased to be seen through the golden glamours of romance.

At any rate, this particular point of view—the Triangle point of view, you might say—makes motion pictures that are full of color and movement, with life at the highest tide of strenuosity. It's the point of view that discovers drama, and that reels it out with glorious abandon.

We are given a family feud that ends in three murders, in "The Boss of the Lazy Y," and, of course, there are a dozen thrills to every murder. All this sounds like an unusually gruesome photoplay, and yet it is not at all unpleasantly bloody. To the contrary, it has a perfectly logical and believable plot, and all its characters are as human as your neighbors around the corner.

The story is a very interesting one, and it has been artistically and intelligently worked out by writer, director, actors and the man who pens the sub-titles. Not to forget the photographer, who gives us scenery that is almost as exciting as the people in the play. This happy conjunction of forces means artistic unity, which is exactly what makes "The Boss of the Lazy Y" such an interesting photoplay.

Roy Stewart, who plays the hero, is one of the simplest, finest and strongest actors of "western stuff" that I have seen for many a day—and how like a Centaur he does ride! He is ably abetted by Josie Sedgwick, who also rides with freedom and ease, a female of the Centaur species.

"Rough and Ready."

Go we now into the white fastnesses of the Yukon, where, in "Rough and Ready," a series of rapid-fire pictures in which William Farnum appears at Miller's, all the characters simply wallow in snow. I have never before seen so much snow in pictures. (How fortunate it is that the High Sierras are so close to us, and that the snow fell so profusely this winter. Elsie Farnum and his flock of actors might have had to go farther north and fare much worse.)

"Rough and Ready" is a melodrama, whose action is so fast, so bewildering and so multiform that it leaves you gasping for breath on every five feet of its reel. No device known to the experienced writer of scenarios seems to have been omitted. We recognize old tricks at every turn, and somehow we find no great appeal in them, even though William Farnum smiles and frowns through them all.

Until we draw toward the end of this melodrama made to order from so many old models—when, presto! We sit up and take notice, for now the hero is in hand-to-hand conflict with the villain, and, believe me, the fight is one of the most thrilling and exciting that you ever saw on a screen or a stage. It reminded me of the grandest boxing match I ever witnessed at Vernon. It is a fight worth looking at. Presently you discover that the villain has unsheathed a long and murderous knife, and this he tries to bury in the bosom of the hero, whose tense arm wards it off, while, prostrate he grasps the villain by the wrist. The villain presses slowly down, down, and your blood freezes with horror. Even the doughty William Farnum seems destined to die ingloriously. What a long and close embrace! Will the dastard never arise from his victim? The bystanders pull them apart at last, and you discover that the hero turned that iron wrist at the crucial moment, and that the villain has stabbed himself. Then you breathe again.

I forgive all the ancient melodrama for the sake of this magnificent fight.

FLYING SCHOOL NEEDS A.P.E. MET.

Permit is Granted for Auto Line Between Alessandro and Riverside.

Because there are already 700 men employed on the Alessandro Aviation School, and after its opening there will be between 1500 and 2000 students who will want to travel back and forth to Riverside, the State Railroad Commission yesterday granted authority to Clarence B. Rome to operate an automobile passenger line between the school and Riverside, eleven miles.

SAYS HE'S DRUG CLERK.

Although asserting that he is a drug clerk and has a right to possess narcotics, Wing Ton, a Chinese, was arrested yesterday evening by Officers D. McD. He was taken to Central Station, where the officers released him on $250 bail.

MUSEUM PLANS GIVEN IMPETUS.

Sites for Buildings to House Relics are Offered.

Location Near Los Angeles Gains in Favor.

Association's Incorporation is Expected Soon.

Preliminary plans, it was announced yesterday, are being arranged for the organization and incorporation of the Southern California Pioneer Memorial Museum Association, the primary object of which will be to establish somewhere in the vicinity of Los Angeles a museum to house the priceless documents and relics of Southern California pioneer days, and to aid in the restoration of the old missions and other famous landmarks of the State.

During the past few days there have been several conferences between members of the Los Angeles Pioneers' Society, the Native Sons and the Native Daughters, and Jonathan Tibbet, one of the leaders in this movement, for the purpose of perfecting plans of organization. It is expected that within the ensuing month the new society will be chartered under the State laws, Mr. Tibbet stated yesterday.

Most gratifying encouragement has been given the project from many sources, states Mr. Tibbet, who is the owner of one of the most extensive pioneer collections in the Southwest, and who proposes to place this collection in the new museum.

Offers to donate sites, ranging from ten to 100 acres, have come from various localities, but the prime movers in this enterprise have determined that the site selected shall be some historical spot, and somewhere in the vicinity of Los Angeles, which is the tourist headquarters for the great Southwest. As soon as the organization is perfected, steps will be taken to provide a building fund. It is proposed to erect the first unit of an imposing structure on the old mission style, with walls four feet thick, grilled windows, and containing the best features of the old type of architecture, which is deemed especially appropriate for a pioneer museum.

Already offers have been made of liberal amounts for the building fund, and there have been offers from various sources of most valuable collections for the museum, it is stated. Promoters of the project feel that action should be hastened, as the pioneers are continually passing away, and relics and documents they have collected are scattered or destroyed.

The new association also expects to devote its energies to sustaining the sentiment and romance of the pioneer days, and a part of its work will be to give aid toward the restoration of the old missions and many of the historical landmarks of Southern California. It is expected that the pioneer societies of San Bernardino and Riverside will join in this movement.

BOOK MANY "DRUNKS."

Thirty-three in Day's Haul, Establishing Record—Chief to Organize Bootlegging Squad.

The record for drunks since the Gandier ordinance became effective was established last night, when thirty-three intoxicated men were booked at Central Police Station.

Where the men procured liquors is more or less of a mystery, though some of the inebriates admitted that they secured their "loads" at Watts, Vernon and the beach.

"Bootlegging," said Chief Butler last night, "has not yet advanced noticeably in the city. I expect that the next month will show a great increase in activity among the unscrupulous, who will use every possible means to evade the law. As yet we have not organized a 'bootlegging' squad, but such a group of officers will be formed, placed under the direction of a sergeant who had considerable experience with 'bootleggers' in other cities, and ordered to bring in the 'bad men.'" years later, having met Charley Lux, he took him in as a partner, and they began reaching out and buying land upon which to raise their own meats.

As time went on he and Charley Lux bought land and more land. Once they owned 22,717 square miles or 14,539,200 acres of land, in Nevada, Oregon and California. It was said of them, and they often boasted of the fact, that they could round up an "M. & M." herd at the Arizona line, head it toward Oregon by way of the Central California valley, and camp every night of the trip on their own lands.

For many years their estate was known as the "Dirty Plate Route," it being reputed that hobos could always find food and shelter on the premises of Miller & land holdings were an area twice the They owned and of slaughter houses, and general stores length of California, their foremen, by the thousands known as the last the fabulously wealthy of the great West. and Miller carried until 1914, when him into retirement age. His wife was Sheldon, a Californian.
